

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
Abbreviations	xi

Introduction

1. Bede and the Latin Tradition of Exegesis of Revelation	5
1.1 The Roots of Bede's Major Exegetical Theme	7
1.2 Victorinus of Pettau	9
1.3 Apocalyptic Retreats and Revivals in the Fourth Century	11
1.4 Tyconius	14
1.5 The Tyconian Tradition from Augustine to the End of the Sixth Century	16
2. Bede's Immediate Sources and How He Used Them	22
2.1 ' Commaticum interpretandi genus '	23
2.2 A Mosaic of Quotations	25
2.3 Reconstructing Bede's Use of Tyconius	28
2.4 The Occlusion of Primasius	30
2.5 Did Bede Read Caesarius?	31
2.6 Bede's Borrowings from Augustine	32
2.7 Bede Reads Jerome and Gregory	33
2.8 Was Bede's Exegesis Influenced by Visual Sources?	34
2.9 Bede and the Text of the Bible	38
3. Date and Circumstances of Composition	39
3.1 The Significance of the Date of Composition	39
3.2 The Commentary on Revelation and the Preface to the Commentary on Acts	40
3.3 Obstreperantes causae ?	43
3.4 An Apocalyptic Eighth Century?	51
4. Shape and Style of the Commentary on Revelation	58
4.1 The Poem of Bede the Priest	58

4.2 Bede's Preface: The Structure of Revelation and the ' periochae '	59
4.3 Bede's Preface: The Methodological Framework	67
4.4. The Unscheduled Future: How Bede Shapes the Meaning of Revelation	73
4.5 Judgement and Reform	82
5. Bede's Commentary on Revelation : Transmission and Translation	86
5.1 Transmission in Manuscript	86
5.2 The Commentary in Print	92
5.3 Principles Governing the Present Translation	94

Bede: Commentary on Revelation

The Poem of Bede the Priest	99
Preface	101
Book 1	107
Book 2	161
Book 3	218
Appendix: The capitula lectionum on Revelation Ascribed to Bede	287
Select Bibliography	292
Index of Sources and Parallels	309
General Index	339