

WE ARE ANARCHISTS

Essays on Anarchism, Pacifism, and the Indian Independence Movement, 1923-1953

M.P.T. ACHARYA

Edited and introduced by Ole Birk Laursen

Contents

Abbreviations	v
Acknowledgments	vi
Introduction: “M. P. T. Acharya: A Revolutionary, an Agitator, a Writer,” by Ole Birk Laursen	1
1. The “Communist” Program: A Critical Review	35
2. Communism in Its True Form	42
3. “Anarchist Manifesto”	45
4. The Mystery Behind the Chinese Trouble	50
5. In India	55
6. Disruption of Marxism	58
7. From a Bolshevik	66
8. Mother India	69
9. Principles of Non-Violent Economics	77
10. Unity—What For!	83
11. Why This Judicial Murder?	87
12. On Jealousy	89
13. Trusts and Democracy	92
14. Project: Intended to Wrest Small Industries from the Clutches of Capitalism	98
15. Gandhi and Non-Violence	103
16. The Problem of Exploitation and Its Elimination	107
17. Some Confusions Among Workers	113
18. Who Are Workers?	118
19. Is the Exchange Between the City and the Countryside Economical?	121
20. A Response to All “Economists”	123
21. The End of the Money System	127
22. Nationalism in India	131
23. On the Question of Race	137

24. Is the Present System Doomed?	140
25. A Belated Forecast for the Year 1934	142
26. Anarchy or Chaos?	146
27. The Case for Buddhism	148
28. Max Nettlau as Biographer and Historian	155
29. Ethics and “Isms”	161
30. A Letter from India	168
31. Is War Inevitable?	171
32. Letter from India	174
33. Anarchy: From Philosophy to Economics	178
34. Labour Splits in India	185
35. What is Anarchism?	191
36. A Libertarian Voice from India	215
37. Libertarian Thought in India	217
38. Money & Moral Values	219
39. Life of the Workers in India	227
40. Voice of India	231
41. The End of an Era: Echoes of Free India	234
42. Trade Unions in India—Pillars of Capitalism	239
43. An Indian Looks at “Independence”	243
44. Savarkar: A Criticism	245
45. How Long Can Capitalism Survive?	248
46. Our Indian Correspondent on the Stuffed Dove of Peace at the Indian Peace Convention	254
47. Confusion Between Communism and State Capitalism	258
48. Letters to the Editor, Thought (1950–1952)	263
49. Letter from India: Nehru and Korea	267
50. Indians in British Colonies	271
Chronology of Events	274
Index	277