

Writing Russian Lives

The Poetics and Politics of Biography in Modern Russian Culture

edited by

Polly Jones

Modern Humanities Research Association for the
UCL School of Slavonic and East European Studies
2018

CONTENTS

Introduction — The Poetics and Politics of Modern Russian Biography Polly Jones	1
1. Biography as Archive: Writing the Lives of Scholars in Imperial Russia Nathaniel Knight	16
2. Creating a National Biographical Series: F. F. Pavlenkov's 'Lives of Remarkable People', 1890–1924 Ludmilla A. Trigos and Carol Ueland	41
3. 'Remembrances of a Distant Past': Generational Memory and the Collective Auto/Biography of Russian Populists in the Revolutionary Era Ben Eklof and Tatiana Saburova	67
4. Lives and Facts: Biography in Russia in the 1920s Angela Brintlinger	94
5. The Antifascist Pact: Forging a First Experience of Nazi Occupation in the Wartime Soviet Union Jochen Hellbeck	117
6. 'Life as big as the ocean': Bolshevik Biography and the Problem of Personality from Late Stalinism to Late Socialism Polly Jones	144
Notes on contributors	175