

Digitized Lives

Culture, Power and Social Change in the Internet Era

Second Edition

T. V. Reed

Contents

List of Illustrations ix
Preface: Why Buy this Book? xi
Outline of Chapters xv
Companion Website xvi
Acknowledgments xix

1 How Do We Make Sense of Digitizing Cultures? Some Ways of Thinking Through the Culture–Technology Matrix 1

Does Technology Make Us More than We Make Technology? Technological Determinism vs. Technocultural Analysis 9

Components of Digital Culture Analysis 13

Terminal Confusion? 17

What's in a Name? New Media/Cyber/Digital Culture/ Etc. Studies 22

2 How Is the Digital World Made? The Designer/Worker/ User Production Cycle 29

The Internet's Weird History 29

From Dream to Reality to Dream: Producing Digital Stuff 36

Maker Culture Production: The Open Source Do-It-Yourself Digital World 41

Clean Rooms or "Dark Satanic Mills"? Toxic Production E-Waste and Environmental Justice 45

- 3 What's New about Digitized Identities? Mobile Bodies, Online Disguise, Cyberbullying and Virtual Communities 53
- Is There a Virtual World/Real World Divide? 55
 - Is Life Online a Mobile Masquerade? 61
 - Anonymity, Disinhibition and Cyberbullying 68
 - Are Virtual Communities for Real? 71
 - How Much Online Life Is Good for Us? 72
- 4 Has Digital Culture Killed Privacy? Social Media, Governments and Digitized Surveillance 77
- What Rights Are Being Lost if Privacy Is Lost? 80
 - Social Media as Surveillance Mechanism 81
 - Government Surveillance 89
 - What Can We Do to Protect Our Data and Privacy? 96
- 5 Is Everybody Equal Online? Digitizing Gender, Ethnicity, Dis/Ability and Sexual Orientation 101
- The Default Subject Position? 102
 - Is the Internet a Guy? Engendering Cyberspaces 106
 - Is the Internet Colorblind? E-Racializations 117
 - Who Is Dis/Abled by Cyberspaces? Enabling and Disabling Technologies 124
 - How Queer Are Cyberspaces? Alternative Sexualities in Cyberspaces 130
 - Cultural Imperialism, Hegemony and/or Digital Diversity? 132
- 6 Sexploration and/or Sexploitation? Digitizing Desire 139
- Real Virtual Sex Education 139
 - Digital Diddling: Varieties of Cybersex 141
 - The "Mainstreaming" of Porn 143
 - Digitized Sex Trafficking 149

- 7 Tools for Democracy or Authoritarianism? Digitized Politics and the Post-Truth Era 153
- Electronic Electoral Politics: The Trump Campaign, Brexit and the Weaponization of Digital Data 153
- Fake News, Real Impact: Digitizing a Post-Truth Era 158
- Can Social Media Overthrow Governments? 167
- Electronic Civil Disobedience, Hacktivism and Digital Organizing 169
- Cyberterrorism 182
- Digitizing the Arts of Protest 183
- How to Avoid Fake News and Intentionally Inflammatory Politics 187
- 8 Are Digital Games Making Us Violent, or Will They Save the World? Virtual Play, Real Impact 191
- What's in a Game? Playing Theories 192
- What Do Games Teach? 194
- Do Video Games Make Players Violent? 195
- Digitized "Militainment"? 198
- Gender Games, Race Games 202
- Can Video Games Save the World? 212
- 9 Are Students Getting Dumber as Their Phones Get Smarter? E-Learning, Edutainment and the Future of Knowledge Sharing 215
- "Is Our Children Learning" Digitally? 216
- What Is Technology Doing in the Classroom? 218
- Is Knowledge a Commodity or a Human Right? Higher Education vs. Information Feudalism 225
- End of the World (as We Knew It): Digital Humanities and Digitized Arts 229
- The Future of Knowledge Sharing: Education for Whom and for What? 234

10 Who in the World Is Online? Digital Inclusions and Exclusions 237

The World Wide Web Isn't 237

Who Needs the Internet? 239

From Digital Divides to Technologies
for Social Inclusion 243

Should Everyone and Everything Be Online? 249

Why Digitizing Matters to All of Us 252

11 Conclusion: Will Robots and AIs Take Over the World? Hope, Hype and Possible Digitized Futures 255

Robots, Cyborgs, Artificial Intelligence and the Singularity 258

Bibliography 265

Glossary 289

Index 307