

The KREMLINOLOGIST
LLEWELLYN E THOMPSON
America's Man in Cold War Moscow
Jenny Thompson and Sherry Thompson

JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY PRESS

Baltimore

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction. Llewellyn E Thompson:
A Cold War Owl in the Cause of Peace 1

PART I ≡ Expectations and Education

- 1 The Beginning 5
- 2 Into the World 13
- 3 To Moscow 19
- 4 The Siege of Moscow 26
- 5 The Germans in Retreat 39
- 6 Conferences 48
- 7 The Hot War Ends and the Cold War Begins 56
- 8 The Truman Doctrine 61
- 9 The Birth of Covert Operations 69
- 10 Overseas Again 80

PART II ≡ Negotiations

- 11 Chief of Mission 91
- 12 The Trieste Negotiations 101
- 13 The Austrian State Treaty Negotiations 116
- 14 Open Skies, Closed Borders 132

PART III ≡ Diplomacy

- 15 Khrushchev's Decade (1953–1964) 149
- 16 Moscow 2 152
- 17 Khrushchev's First Gamble: Berlin Poker 165

18	Dueling Exhibitions	180
19	The Russian Is Coming	190
20	U-2: The End of Détente	202
21	Picking Up the Pieces	222
22	Working for the New President	233
23	Meeting in Vienna	246
24	The Twenty-Second Congress of the Communist Party	266
25	Up the Down Escalator: The Thompson-Gromyko Talks	274
26	Goodbye Moscow, Hello Washington	284
27	Thirteen Days in October	298
28	Limited Test Ban	334

PART IV ≡ Policy

29	The Lyndon Johnson Years	357
30	Strand One: Vietnam (1962–1967)	366
31	Thompson's Vietnam	370
32	Strand Two: Nonproliferation (1962–1967)	391
33	Strand Three: The Road to SALT (1962–1967)	404
34	Moscow 3	413
35	The Six-Day War: Hotline Diplomacy	428
36	Glassboro: The Summit That Wasn't (June 23–25, 1967)	435
37	1968: A Year of Frustrated Promise	451
38	"Retirement," So to Speak	465

Notes 479

Bibliography 567

Index 573