

THE KIERKEGAARDIAN MIND

Edited by Adam Buben, Eleanor Helms, and Patrick Stokes

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
List of abbreviations for Kierkegaard's Works	x
List of contributors	xiv
Introduction: Kierkegaard's life, context, and legacy Adam Buben, Eleanor Helms, and Patrick Stokes	1
PART 1
Methodology	15
1 The passion of Kierkegaard's existential method Lee C. Barrett	17
2 Johannes Climacus and the dialectical method: from dialectics back to existence Claudine Davidshofer	28
3 Kierkegaard's experimenting psychology William McDonald	39
4 Methodology and the Kierkegaardian mind Jamie Turnbull	52
PART 2
Ethics	65
5 Ethical reflection as evasion Rob Compaijen and Pieter Vos	67

6	Kierkegaard on moral particularism and exemplarism Karl Aho	78
7	Beyond worry? On learning humility from the lilies and the birds John Lippitt	89
8	Did Napoleon teleologically suspend the ethical? A dilemma for some 'Hegelian' readings of Fear and Trembling Ryan S. Kemp	100
9	An ethics of home and hope: Kierkegaard's exile and Heidegger's emigrant Megan Altman	110
10	Love for humans: morality as the heart of Kierkegaard's religious philosophy Sharon Krishek	122
PART 3
	Aesthetics	133
11	The ethical life of aesthetes Ulrika Carlsson	135
12	Kierkegaard on nature and natural beauty Anthony Rudd	145
13	Kierkegaard's transfigurations of the sublime Samuel Cuff Snow	156
14	Kierkegaard on the value of art: an indirect method of communication Antony Aumann	166
15	Deleuze on Kierkegaard Andrew Jampol-Petzinger	177
PART 4
	Philosophy of religion and theology	189
16	Kierkegaard's existential mimesis Wojciech Kaftanski	191
17	Becoming a subject: Kierkegaard's theological art of existence Peder Jothen	203

18	Engendering atonement: Kierkegaard on the cross Deidre Nicole Green	215
19	On faith and reason(s): Kierkegaard's logic of conviction K. Brian Söderquist	227
20	Coming to an understanding with the paradox Mark A. Wrathall	239
21	Kierkegaard's defense of nature and theology against natural theology Will Williams	254
PART 5
	Philosophy of mind	267
22	Consciousness, self, and reflection Patrick Stokes	269
23	Conscience, self-deception, and the question of authenticity in Kierkegaard Claudia Welz	281
24	Imagination and belief Eleanor Helms	293
25	Agency, identity, and alienation in The Sickness unto Death Justin F. White	305
PART 6
	Anthropology	317
26	Kierkegaard's post-Kantian approach to anthropology and selfhood Roe Fremstedal	319
27	Images of the closed self in The Sickness unto Death Anna Louise Strelis Söderquist	331
28	The Kierkegaardian self: convergences and divergences Jack Mulder, Jr.	341
29	Kierkegaard and the desirability of immortality Adam Buben	351

PART 7
Epistemology		363
30	Christian epistemology and the anthropology of sin: Kierkegaard on natural theology and the concept of 'offense' Karen L. Carr	365
31	Varieties of existential uncertainty Rick Anthony Furtak	376
32	Irony and the conversion experience Walter Wietzke	386
33	Logic, language, and existential knowledge Mélissa Fox-Muraton	397
34	The incognito of a thief: Johannes Climacus and the poetics of self-incrimination Martijn Boven	409
PART 8
Politics		421
35	Lukács, Kierkegaard, Marx, and the political Alison Assiter	423
36	Kierkegaard: the dialectical self and the political Shoni Rancher	435
37	Kierkegaard, Hegel, and Augustine on love Thomas J. Millay	446
38	The covetous canary: Kierkegaard on the problem of social comparison and the cultivation of social courage Paul Carron	457
Index		468