

Table of contents

Foreword	VII
Diane Larsen-Freeman
Introduction	IX
Gary G. Fogal and Marjolijn H. Verspoor
Part I. CAF perspectives
CHAPTER 1
Exploring dynamic developmental trajectories of writing fluency: Who benefited from the writing task?	3
Kyoko Baba
CHAPTER 2
Coordination of linguistic subsystems as a sign of automatization?	27
Junping Hou, Hanneke Loerts and Marjolijn H. Verspoor
CHAPTER 3
The dynamic co-development of linguistic and discourse-semantic complexity in advanced L2 writing	49
Yu Wang and Shoucun Tao
Part II. New constructs, approaches, and domains
CHAPTER 4
Adaptive imitation: Formulaicity and the words of others in L2 English academic writing	81
Susy Macqueen and Ute Knoch
CHAPTER 5
Profiling the dynamic changes of syntactic complexity in L2 academic writing: A multilevel synchrony method	109
R. Rosmawati
CHAPTER 6
Biographical retrodiction for investigating the evolution of learner agency and L2 writing development through study abroad experiences	133
Ryo Nitta

Part III. Methodological perspectives

CHAPTER 7

- The elusive phase shift: Capturing changes in L2 writing development and interaction between the cognitive and social ecosystems 161
Elizabeth Hepford

CHAPTER 8

- Investigating complexity in L2 writing with mixed methods approaches 183
Alex Gilmore and Gabriela Adela Gánem-Gutiérrez

CHAPTER 9

- A critical appraisal of the CDST approach to investigating linguistic complexity in L2 writing development 207
Bram Bulté and Alex Housen

Part IV. Curricular perspectives

CHAPTER 10

- Envisioning L2 writing development in CDST under a curricular optic: A proposal 241
Heidi Byrnes

CHAPTER 11

- Unpacking 'simplex systems': Curricular thinking for L2 writing development 271
Gary G. Fogal

- List of contributors 295

- Index 299