

Contents

List of Figures	ix
Foreword: Amyas and Me: A Personal History of Charles Kingsley	x
JOHN SUTHERLAND
Acknowledgements	xiii
List of Abbreviations	xiv
Introduction: Charles Kingsley: ‘The Most Typical Victorian of Them All’	1
JAN MARTEN IVO KLAVER AND JONATHAN CONLIN
1 ‘Love Me! Baby! Love God!’: Courtship, Marriage, and the Emergence of a Kingsleyan Ascetics, 1839–45	16
JONATHAN CONLIN
2 A ‘Yeasty State of Mind’: Charles Kingsley and the Problem of Self-Culture	36
RICHARD SALMON
3 ‘To Amuse Merely as a Novel’: Alton Locke (1850) and Literary Pleasure	55
FRANCIS O’GORMAN
4 Effeminate: Kingsley and the History of an Epithet	72
JAMES ELI ADAMS
5 How Odd Is Kingsley’s Hypatia?	86
SIMON GOLDHILL
6 The Fly in the Amber: The Controversy with Newman	105
JAN MARTEN IVO KLAVER

viii Contents

7	Kingsley's Muscular Poetics	123
	HERBERT F. TUCKER
8	Kingsley's Old Testament Heroes	141
	GARETH ATKINS
9	Charles Kingsley and the Evolution of Man and Morals in The Water-Babies	159
	PIERS J. HALE
10	Evolutionary and Anglican Afterlives: Death as a Sacrament in Kingsley's Water-Babies	184
	ALAN RAUCH
11	Kingsley on Race and Empire	202
	THEODORE KODITSCHKEK
12	Kingsley and the Irish	220
	NORMAN VANCE
13	Histories and Historians	235
	LESLIE HOWSAM
	Afterword: Charles Kingsley as Polymath	251
	BERNARD LIGHTMAN
	List of Contributors	257
	Index	262