

Contents

| | |
|--|-----|
| Introduction: Now More than Ever | 1 |
| Joseph R. Lease | |
| 1 Sustainability and Writing: Radishes, Scythes, Thoreau, and Students | 7 |
| Ron Balthazor | |
| 2 Ecotopia Revisited in Image: The Imagined (and Enacted) Peril and Promise of Portland | 29 |
| Hill Taylor | |
| 3 “meanderings to the river”: A Sustainable Approach to Teaching Sustainability in First-Year Composition | 51 |
| Deborah Church Miller, Lindsay Tigue, and Kim Waters | |
| 4 Reflecting on Action and Acting on Reflection: High-Impact Practices for Transformative Learning in Sustainability | 89 |
| Justin Rademaekers and Cheryl Wanko | |
| 5 Design Thinking and Sustainability Problem Solving: Reconceptualizing a First-Year Writing-Intensive Seminar | 115 |
| Joseph R. Lease, Matthew R. Martin, and Joanne Chu | |
| 6 Creating Sustainability through Creativity: Using Creative Writing to Reframe and Build Connections | 129 |
| Lesley Hawkes | |
| 7 East to West: The Interconnectedness of All Things Created | 151 |
| Pamela Herron | |

| | |
|---|-----|
| 8 “Against Sustainability”: And Other Provocations for a First-Year Writing-Intensive Seminar Abby L. Goode | 175 |
| Bibliography | 197 |
| Index | 211 |
| About the Contributors | 215 |