

Contents

List of figures	viii
Preface	xii
1 Cultural diversity and the scientific endeavor	1
2 Science in Egypt: creating a civilization	14
3 Land between two rivers: science in ancient Mesopotamia	54
4 Indian science: a great blending of traditions	88
5 The Greeks and science: powers of discovery and inheritance	125
6 Science in China: the wages of order and invention	166
7 Science in Islam: absorption and transformation	211
8 New World civilizations: Olmecs, Incas, Mayans, and Aztecs	253
9 Inheriting and interpreting the world: the scientific culture of late Medieval and Renaissance Europe	293
10 Conclusion: themes in the world history of scientific cultures	330
Index	339