

Contents

1	Introduction: Toward a New Genealogy of the Phenomenological Movement	1
	Ingrid Vendrell Ferran
Part I Historical Sources and Influences
2	Value in Existence: Lotze, Lipps, and Voigtländer on Feelings of Self-Worth	25
	Philipp Schmidt
3	Else Voigtländer’s Thoughts on Psychoanalysis	47
	Thomas Barth
Part II Affectivity and Value
4	Between Love and Benevolence. Voigtländer, Pfänder, and Walther on the Phenomenology of Sentiments	71
	Genki Uemura
5	Erotic Love and the Value of the Beloved	89
	Toru Yaegashi
6	Ressentiment and Self-deception in Early Phenomenology: Voigtländer, Scheler, and Reinach	103
	Ingrid Vendrell Ferran
Part III Social Self and Character
7	Else Voigtländer on Social Self-feelings	125
	Alessandro Salice
8	Authenticity and Mask: Critical Self-relations in Else Voigtländer	141
	Hilge Landweer

9	Phenomenology and Characterology. Austrian and Bavarian	163
	Guillaume Fréchette
 Part IV Gender and Politics
10	Else Voigtländer on Sexual Difference: An Early 20th-Century Gender Theory?	181
	Ute Gahlings
11	Psychologizing Politics, Neglect, and Gender: Applications of Voigtländer's Scientific Characterology	199
	Sophie Loidolt and Petra Gehring
12	An Ordinary Woman: Else Voigtländer and National Socialism	223
	George Heffernan
	 Index	 243