

Contents

Figures and Tables	vii
Contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xiii
Introduction: Origins, Scope and Rationale of the Book Steph Ainsworth, Dominic Griffiths, Gee Macrory and Kate Pahl	xv
Part 1: Multilingual Approaches
Introduction to Part 1: Appraising the ‘Multilingual Turn’ in Applied Linguistics and Sociolinguistics Vally Lytra	3
1 Heritage Language Speakers’ Responses to Plurilingual Pedagogies in a Secondary School Context Sophie Liggins	15
2 The Development of the Linguistic Repertoire of Primary School Learners within the Mauritian Multilingual Educational System Yesha Devi Mahadeo-Doorgakant	34
3 ‘What’s in a Name?’ An Exploratory Study on International Students’ Names within International University Theatre Society Contexts Priyanki Ghosh	52
4 ‘So You Need to Be Able to Tell It Well’: On Footing and Genre in Lawyer–Client Consultations in the Field of Asylum Law Marie Jacobs	70
Part 2: Multimodal Approaches
Introduction to Part 2: Situating Multimodality in the Landscape of Language Research Jennifer Rowsell	91

5	Applying Linguistics to the Theatre Production Process Kelli Zezulka	110
6	'A Special Closeness', 'des moments de tendresse indescriptibles': A Multimodal Critique of Infant Feeding Health Promotional Discourse in Ireland and France Ornaith Rodgers	123
7	Expressing Reading Engagement within Drama-Based Literary Work: Perspectives from Three Students in a Linguistically Diverse Classroom in Sweden Christina Hedman, Ewa Jacquet, Eva Nilsson and Katarina Rejman	142
8	Conversation through Art Jessica Bradley and Louise Atkinson	158
Part 3: Integrating Multimodal and Multilingual Approaches
	Introduction to Part 3: Multilingualism and Multimodality: A Comment Gabriele Budach	177
9	Meaning Matters: Multimodality, (New) Materialism and Co-production with Young People in Applied Linguistics Kate Pahl	191
10	Peer to Peer Multiliteracies: A New Concept of Accessibility Ulrike Zeshan, Sibaji Panda, Uta Papen and Julia Gillen	206
	Concluding Thoughts: Labouring Together towards Generous Cuts in Language and Literacy Education Khawla Badwan	223
	Index	232