

CONTENTS

Foreword	VII
Abbreviations	XI

I. A Dilemma in Modern Theology

1. Introduction: The Legacy of Paul Tillich and the Concept of Correlation	3
2. The Dilemma and the Concept of Correlation	34

II. Religion and Culture

3. Religion and the Concept of Correlation	87
Tillich's 'Two' Senses of Religion	87
The Place of Religion in Geistesleben	101
Religion, Theology and Correlation	112
4. Culture and the Concept of Correlation	117
Culture as Cultivation	123
Culture as Geistesleben	129
Culture as 'Complex Whole'	140

III. Two Models of a Correlative Relation

5. Questioning, Answering and the Concept of Correlation	155
The Role of Questioning and Answering in the Development of Tillich's Thought	160
Questioning and Answering as a Model of Correlation	177
6. Form, Content and the Concept of Correlation	191
The Role of 'Form' and 'Content' in the Development of Tillich's Thought	191
Form and Content as a Model of Correlation	222
Conclusion: The Dilemma Resolved?	248

Appendices	251
(1) Paul Tillich: Systematische Theologie (1913)	253
(2) Paul Tillich: Die Gestalt der religiösen Erkenntnis (1927–1928) . .	269
Bibliography	309
Index of Names	325