

CONTENTS

- Preface, vii
- I. Introduction, 1
- II. Wittgenstein's Two Visions of Language, 24
- III. Language Learning and Meaning, 50
- IV. Context, Sense, and Concepts, 71
- V. The Problem of Words and the World, 99
- VI. Grammar and Forms of Life, 116
- VII. Language Regions, Moral Discourse, and Action, 140
- VIII. Justice: Socrates and Thrasymachus, 169
- IX. Membership, the Social, and the Political, 193
- X. Judgment, 219
- XI. Action and the Problem of Social Science, 241
- XII. Explanation, Freedom, and the Concepts of Social Science, 264
- XIII. Philosophy and the Study of Political Theory, 287
- XIV. Political Theory and the Modern Predicament, 316
- Bibliography, 341
- Index, 351