

Contents

Contributors	vii
Foreword Suresh Canagarajah	xv
Introduction Ching-Ching Lin and Clara Vaz Bauler	xix
Part 1: Dialogic Testimonio
1 Ni de Aquí, Ni de Allá: Reflections on Trying to Fit into a Box Sandra Rodríguez-Arroyo, Laura C. Walls and Ferial Pearson	3
2 On the (Constant) Process of Becoming a Critical Language Educator in the Brazilian Context Priscila Fabiane Farias, Leonardo da Silva and Litiane Barbosa Macedo	17
3 Unpacking Raciolinguistic Ideologies and Power Dynamics in Teacher Education through Intersectionality Sumeyra Gok and Angelina Gillispie	31
4 Black Women's Ibasho: Creating a Space of Belonging in Japan Kinsella Valies and Lisa M. Hunsberger	45
5 Negotiating Identity, Language and Power: Dialogic Reflections on Non-Native English-Speaking Writing Instructors in the US Composition Classroom Lan Wang-Hiles, Ekaterina Goodroad, Tong Zhang and Judith Szerdahelyi	60
Part 2: Digitally-Mediated Public Scholarship
6 Twitter/X as Thinking Communities: Responding, Reacting and Acting on Linguistic Discrimination Clara Vaz Bauler and Vanja Karanović	77

7	Forming Performative Space through Legitimate Peripheral Participation: Digitally-Mediated Dialogic Inquiry of Four BIPOC TESOL Professionals Ching-Ching Lin, Derek Baylor, Yasmeen Coaxum and Shuzhan Li	91
8	Professional Communities in the Making: Critical Dialogues in the ELT Field A.R. Shearer and Clara Vaz Bauler	107
9	Escaping the H-Index: On the Value and Voice of Public Engagement for Racialized Scholars JPB Gerald and Clara Vaz Bauler	125
Part 3: Through a Critical Incident Lens
10	When Daily Uses of Language, Identity and 'Power' Intersect with the Global (Center) versus Local (Periphery) Power Relations: An Interdisciplinary Study Ribut Wahyudi and M. Faisol	141
11	A Critical Dialogue Among Participants in a Professional Learning Community Luciana C. de Oliveira, Destini Braxton, Jia Gui and Tara Willging	158
12	Ebbs, Flows, What's New is Old: A Collaborative Autoethnography of Three EFL Educators in Turkey Edmund Christopher Melville, Rasha Ashkar and Nicholas Douglas	173
13	Critical Listening: A Teacher-Scholar Dialogue on the Challenges of Linguistically- and Culturally-Centered Coursework Julia E. Kiernan, Joyce Meier and Xiqiao Wang	189
14	Curiosity Matters: Envisioning Intercultural Dialogue in Qualitative Research Practice Wing Shuen Lau and Kristine Mensonides Gritter	204
	Index	219