

CONTENTS

PART III

THE TIMES OF THE JUDGES AND THE KINGS

(Continued)

CHAPTER XII

THE KEEPERS OF THE THRESHOLD

	PAGE
The Keepers of the Threshold in the temple at Jerusalem . . . . .	I
Modern Syrian superstition about treading on a threshold . . . . .	2
Keepers of the Threshold at Peking in the Middle Ages . . . . .	2
Not to tread on the threshold of a Tartar prince's hut . . . . .	3
Respect for thresholds of caliphs of Baghdad and kings of Persia . . . . .	4
Respect for thresholds of Fijian chiefs . . . . .	4
Respect for thresholds in Africa . . . . .	5
Respect for thresholds among aborigines of India and the Kalmuks . . . . .	5
Conditional prohibitions to touch the threshold . . . . .	6
Practice of carrying a bride over the threshold . . . . .	6
Practice of carrying a bride over the threshold among Aryan peoples . . . . .	8
The practice not a relic of marriage by capture . . . . .	10
Sanctity of the threshold . . . . .	11
Belief that the threshold is haunted by spirits . . . . .	11
Custom of burying the dead at the doorway . . . . .	13
Stillborn children buried under the threshold to ensure rebirth . . . . .	13
Abortive calves buried under the threshold in England . . . . .	14
Sanctity of the threshold and the theory of rebirth . . . . .	15
Sacrifice of animals at thresholds . . . . .	16
Brides stepping over blood at the threshold . . . . .	16
Sacrifices to the dead at the threshold among the Bambaras . . . . .	17
Sacrifices to the sun at the threshold among the Gonds . . . . .	17
Sacrifices at the threshold among the South Slavs . . . . .	17
Sanctity of the threshold in relation to spirits . . . . .	18

CHAPTER XIII

THE BIRD-SANCTUARY

	PAGE
Birds nesting on the altars at Jerusalem . . . . .	19
Birds unmolested in the sanctuary of Apollo . . . . .	19
Aesculapius and the sparrows . . . . .	20
The Syrian goddess and the pigeons . . . . .	20
Immunity of birds in sacred places . . . . .	20

CHAPTER XIV

ELIJAH AND THE RAVENS

Elijah and the ravens at the brook Cherith . . . . .	22
The scenery of the Wady Kelt, the traditionary Cherith . . . . .	22
The ravens at Jerusalem . . . . .	24
The ravens at the Dead Sea . . . . .	25
Prophetic power ascribed to ravens . . . . .	25
The sagacity of the raven . . . . .	26
Popular respect for a raven in ancient Rome . . . . .	26
The raven's power of imitating the human voice . . . . .	27
The raven as a bird of prey . . . . .	28
Hyenas revered as devourers of the dead in Africa . . . . .	28
Kinship of men with beasts and birds of prey . . . . .	29

CHAPTER XV

SACRED OAKS AND TEREBINTHS

The oak and the terebinth in Palestine . . . . .	30
Three species of oaks in Palestine . . . . .	30
The oak woods of Sharon, Tasso's Enchanted Forest . . . . .	32
The oak woods of Zebulun and Asher . . . . .	33
The oak woods of Baniyas at the springs of the Jordan . . . . .	33
The oak woods of the Decapolis and Bashan . . . . .	34
The oak woods of Gilead . . . . .	35
The oak woods of Mahanaim. Absalom and the oak . . . . .	36
The ruined castle of Hyrcanus . . . . .	37
Veneration for oaks in Palestine . . . . .	37
Abundance of oaks in Palestine . . . . .	38
Sacred oak groves in Northern Syria . . . . .	38
Sacred oaks beside the tombs of Mohammedan saints . . . . .	39
The Wely or reputed tomb of a saint under a sacred tree . . . . .	40
These shrines ( Mukâms ) the real objects of worship in Palestine . . . . .	41
Description of these shrines . . . . .	41

CONTENTS

	vii PAGE
Mode of worship at the shrines . . . . .	42
Sanctity of the trees at the shrines . . . . .	43
Antiquity of the worship at these "high places" . . . . .	43
Modern examples of these local sanctuaries . . . . .	43
Sacred oak trees hung with votive rags . . . . .	45
Daughters of Jacob associated with oaks . . . . .	46
Hebrew words for oak and terebinth . . . . .	46
Terebinths in Palestine . . . . .	47
Sacred terebinths hung with votive rags . . . . .	48
The spirit or saint ( Wely ) in the tree . . . . .	49
The oak predominantly the sacred tree of Palestine . . . . .	51
Worship of oaks denounced by Hebrew prophets . . . . .	52
Bloody sacrifices to sacred oaks . . . . .	53
Bloody sacrifices to sacred trees in Africa . . . . .	53
Jehovah associated with sacred oaks or terebinths . . . . .	54
The oracular oak or terebinth at Shechem . . . . .	55
The oak associated with the king . . . . .	56
The oak or terebinth of Mamre . . . . .	57
The three angels worshipped at the tree . . . . .	57
The three gods in the holy oak at Romove . . . . .	58
Church built by Constantine "at the oak of Mamre" . . . . .	58
Annual festival at the terebinth or oak of Mamre . . . . .	59
The end of the Jewish nation at the terebinth or oak of Mamre . . . . .	60

CHAPTER XVI

THE HIGH PLACES OF ISRAEL

The high places formerly legitimate seats of worship . . . . .	62
Abolition of worship at the high places . . . . .	63
Green trees a prominent feature of the high places . . . . .	64
Wooded heights still seats of religious worship in Palestine . . . . .	65
Sacred groves, relics of ancient forests, on high places among the Akikuyu . . . . .	65
Sacred groves, relics of ancient forests, among the Mundas . . . . .	67
Analogy of the grove deities to the Baalim . . . . .	68
Sacred groves, relics of ancient forests, on high places among the Afghans . . . . .	68
Sacred groves, relics of ancient forests, on high places among the Cheremiss . . . . .	69
The Baalim of Canaan probably old woodland deities . . . . .	70
The sacred pole ( asherah ) and its analogue in Borneo . . . . .	70

CHAPTER XVII

THE SILENT WIDOW

Restrictions laid on mourners for fear of the ghost . . . . .	71
Silence perhaps imposed on Hebrew widows . . . . .	72
Silence of widows in Africa and Madagascar . . . . .	72

	PAGE
Silence of widows among North American Indians . . . . .	72
Silence of widows in some tribes of North Australia . . . . .	73
Silence of widows among the Arunta of Central Australia . . . . .	74
Silence of widows among the Unmatjera and Kaitish . . . . .	76
Silence of widows and other female mourners among the Warramunga . . . . .	76
Silence of widows among the Dieri . . . . .	77
The motive for silence a fear of the ghost . . . . .	78
Confirmation from position in which widow stands to her deceased husband's younger brother . . . . .	79
Similar customs and beliefs perhaps in ancient Israel . . . . .	80

CHAPTER XVIII

JONAH AND THE WHALE

Jonah swallowed by a great fish and vomited up . . . . .	82
A New Guinea parallel to the tale . . . . .	83

CHAPTER XIX

JEHOVAH AND THE LIONS

Assyrian settlers in Israel protected against lions by Israelitish priest . . . . .	84
In Celebes strangers employ native priests of the land . . . . .	85
In Senegal the priesthood of Earth held by aborigines . . . . .	85
Ceremonies for repression of tigers performed by aboriginal priests in India . . . . .	87
Deities to be judged by the moral standard of their time . . . . .	90

PART IV

THE LAW

CHAPTER I

THE PLACE OF THE LAW IN JEWISH HISTORY

Late date of Pentateuchal legislation in its present form . . . . .	93
Law a gradual growth . . . . .	93
Legislation and codification . . . . .	95
Many Hebrew laws older than the date of their codification . . . . .	95
Historical reality of Moses, the founder of Israel . . . . .	96
Three bodies of law in the Pentateuch . . . . .	98
The Book of the Covenant . . . . .	99
The Deuteronomic Code . . . . .	100

CONTENTS

	ix
	PAGE
Josiah's reformation : written code substituted for oral tradition . . . . .	101
The religious effect of the substitution . . . . .	102
Date of the composition of the Deuteronomic Code uncertain . . . . .	103
Ethical and religious character of Deuteronomy . . . . .	104
Theoretical inadequacy and practical inconvenience of the one sanctuary . . . . .	105
Destruction of local sanctuaries perhaps regretted by the peasants . . . . .	106
The reformation powerless to avert the national ruin . . . . .	107
The second reformation after the Exile, resulting in the Priestly Code . . . . .	108

CHAPTER II

NOT TO SEETHE A KID IN ITS MOTHER'S MILK

“Not to seethe a kid in its mother's milk” one of the original Ten Commandments . . . . .	111
The original version of the Ten Commandments . . . . .	112
Contrast between the ritual and the moral versions of the Decalogue . . . . .	115
The ritual version the older of the two . . . . .	115
Suggested explanations of the command not to seethe a kid in its mother's milk . . . . .	116
Aversion of pastoral tribes in Africa to boil milk for fear of injuring the cows . . . . .	118
The aversion based on sympathetic magic . . . . .	118
Parallel superstitions as to oranges and lees of wine . . . . .	119
Objection to boil milk among pastoral tribes of Central and East Africa . . . . .	120
Traces of similar beliefs in Europe . . . . .	123
The Hebrew command perhaps similarly explicable . . . . .	124
The boiling of flesh in milk thought to injure the cows . . . . .	124
Other rules of sympathetic magic observed by pastoral peoples . . . . .	125
Milk-vessels not to be washed with water . . . . .	125
Pastoral Bahima will not wash themselves with water . . . . .	126
Cows thought to be affected by the material of milk-vessels . . . . .	127
Menstruous women not to drink milk for fear of injuring the cows . . . . .	128
Menstruous women not to approach cattle among the Kafirs . . . . .	130
Fear of tainting cows' milk with blood . . . . .	130
Wounded men not to drink milk . . . . .	131
Women in childbed not to drink milk . . . . .	131
Milk of special cows reserved for mothers of twins and women with child . . . . .	132
Women forbidden to milk cows in many African tribes . . . . .	133
Women forbidden to milk cattle among the Todas . . . . .	134
Women allowed to milk cows in some tribes . . . . .	135
Mourners not allowed to drink milk . . . . .	136
Widow given boiled milk to drink among the Bechuanas . . . . .	139
Custom of boiling cow's first milk in certain cases . . . . .	139
Persons in a kraal struck by lightning not allowed to drink milk . . . . .	140
Conjuring milk from cows among the Kabyles . . . . .	141
Sexual intercourse forbidden while cattle are at pasture . . . . .	141

	PAGE
Continence of sacred dairymen among the Todas . . . . .	142
Fresh milk drunk only by the young or very old . . . . .	142
Rules as to drinking cow's first milk after calving . . . . .	143
Chastity of king's herdsmen and herdboy among the Banyoro . . . . .	144
Sympathetic relation of king's herdboy to king . . . . .	147
The use of sour curds among pastoral tribes of Africa . . . . .	148
The use of butter among pastoral tribes . . . . .	149
Objection of pastoral tribes to let milk touch flesh . . . . .	150
Flesh and milk not to be eaten together in pastoral tribes . . . . .	151
Jewish rule not to eat flesh and milk together . . . . .	153
Vegetables and milk not to be eaten together in pastoral tribes . . . . .	154
Pastoral tribes discourage agriculture for fear of hurting their cattle . . . . .	157
Some pastoral tribes eschew the flesh of certain wild animals for fear of hurting their cattle . . . . .	157
Aversion of pastoral tribes to game perhaps due to fear of hurting their cattle . . . . .	158
Pastoral tribes eat such wild animals as they think resemble cattle . . . . .	159
Hebrew law of clean and unclean animals perhaps based on their supposed likeness or unlikeness to cattle . . . . .	160
Hebrew customs as to milk and flesh diet probably derived from pastoral stage of society . . . . .	161
Rules of pastoral peoples as to drinking milk intended to benefit the cattle, not the people . . . . .	162
Rites of pastoral peoples in regard to cattle originally magical, not religious . . . . .	163

CHAPTER III

BORING A SERVANT'S EAR

Boring the ear of a slave who refused to go free . . . . .	165
The meaning of the custom uncertain . . . . .	166
Custom of piercing ears and wearing ear-rings in antiquity . . . . .	166
Ear-boring from superstitious motives . . . . .	167
Woman's ears pierced after the birth of her first child . . . . .	167
Ears of child whose elder brothers or sisters have died are pierced in some African tribes . . . . .	168
Children whose elder brothers or sisters have died are thought to be exposed to special danger from evil spirits . . . . .	169
Precautions taken to guard such children by disguises, mutilations, bad names, etc. . . . .	170
Precautions to guard such children in Annam and China . . . . .	170
Precautions to guard such children in Celebes and Borneo . . . . .	172
New-born children offered to demons in Laos . . . . .	173
Pretence of exposing children and buying them back from strangers to deceive demons . . . . .	174
Children, whose elder brothers or sisters have died, given to strangers to bring up . . . . .	174

CONTENTS

xi

	PAGE
African devices to save the lives of such children . . . . .	175
Siberian devices to save the lives of such children . . . . .	176
Indian devices to save the lives of such children by giving them bad names, boring their noses, etc. . . . .	177
Mock sales of such children in Assam . . . . .	181
Ill names given to such children in India . . . . .	182
Exorcism employed to protect such children . . . . .	183
Goats sacrificed as substitutes for such children . . . . .	184
Boring the noses of boys to disguise them as girls . . . . .	184
Begging gold or rags for children whose elder brothers or sisters have died	186
Pretence of burying such children . . . . .	187
Leaving unshorn the hair of such children . . . . .	188
Interpretation of African treatment of such children . . . . .	190
African custom of boring the ears of such children . . . . .	191
Other African devices to save the lives of such children . . . . .	191
Ill names given in Africa to children whose elder brothers or sisters have died . . . . .	191
Such children buried in ashes or dung . . . . .	193
Heads of such children shaved in peculiar ways . . . . .	194
Ears of such children bitten or cut . . . . .	195
Bracelets and rings worn as amulets by such children . . . . .	196
Special doorways cut for such children . . . . .	197
Faces of such children scarified . . . . .	197
Hottentot custom of amputating a finger-joint of a child whose elder brothers or sisters have died . . . . .	198
Conflicting accounts of mutilation of fingers among Hottentots . . . . .	198
Amputation of finger-joints of children among the Bushmen . . . . .	201
Amputation of finger-joints of children in the Gaboon and Madagascar . . . . .	203
Amputation of finger-joints of girls in Australia . . . . .	203
The amputated finger-joints thrown into the sea to make girls good fishermen . . . . .	206
Navel-strings of children thrown into the sea for the same purpose . . . . .	206
Navel-strings of children hung on trees to make them good climbers . . . . .	207
Australian amputation of finger-joints a magical rite . . . . .	208
African amputation of finger-joints for other purposes . . . . .	208
Amputation of finger-joints in Africa as a cure for sickness . . . . .	209
Amputation of finger-joints for the benefit of others . . . . .	210
Amputation of finger-joints for sick relatives in Tonga . . . . .	211
Amputation of finger-joints for sick relatives in Fiji and Futuna . . . . .	212
Amputation of finger-joints as a religious rite in Mysore . . . . .	213
Various accounts of the custom . . . . .	215
The occasion of the amputation . . . . .	217
The scene of the amputation . . . . .	218
Finger-joints of mothers amputated, ears of children bored . . . . .	219
Substitutes for the amputation of finger-joints . . . . .	220
Legend told to explain the origin of the custom . . . . .	221
The amputation of the mother's finger-joints perhaps a sacrifice to save her child . . . . .	222

	PAGE
Amputation of finger-joints of sick people in Tonga . . . . .	222
Sacrifice of finger-joints among the Mandan Indians . . . . .	224
Sacrifice of finger-joints among the Crows and other Indians . . . . .	225
Sacrifice of finger-joints among the Blackfoot Indians . . . . .	225
Amputation of finger-joints in mourning among the North American Indians . . . . .	227
Amputation of finger-joints in mourning among the South American Indians . . . . .	229
Amputation of finger-joints in mourning in Africa . . . . .	230
Amputation of finger-joints in mourning in the Nicobar Islands . . . . .	231
Notching house-pillar instead of destroying house in mourning . . . . .	231
House destroyed or deserted after a death for fear of the ghost . . . . .	232
Camp shifted after a death for fear of the ghost . . . . .	235
Nicobarese mourners disguise themselves from the ghost . . . . .	236
Amputation of finger-joints in mourning in New Guinea . . . . .	237
Amputation of finger-joints in mourning in Polynesia . . . . .	238
Amputation of finger-joints in mourning in Fiji . . . . .	239
Sacrifice of foreskins in mourning in Fiji . . . . .	239
Amputation of finger-joints in mourning perhaps a sacrifice to the ghost . . . . .	240
Orestes and the Furies of his murdered mother . . . . .	241
Mutilating dead children whose elder brothers or sisters have died . . . . .	241
Custom in Bengal of cutting off nose or ear of stillborn child after several similar births . . . . .	242
West African custom of mutilating or destroying dead children whose elder brothers or sisters have died . . . . .	243
Idea of reincarnation associated with such mutilations . . . . .	245
Bambara custom of mutilating dead children whose elder brothers or sisters have died . . . . .	246
These mutilations intended to induce the soul to remain in life at its next incarnation . . . . .	247
Mutilation of dead children to prevent their reincarnation in Annam and North America . . . . .	247
Mutilation of living children, whose elder brothers or sisters have died, perhaps intended to prevent them from dying . . . . .	248
Piece of child's ear swallowed by mother, perhaps to secure its rebirth in her womb . . . . .	249
European treatment of children whose elder brothers or sisters have died . . . . .	250
Pretended exposure and sale of such children in Macedonia . . . . .	250
Devices to save the lives of such children in Albania, Bulgaria, and Russia . . . . .	252
Expedient to save the lives of such children in Scotland . . . . .	253
Esthonian mode of burying such children . . . . .	253
Saxon and German treatment of such children at baptism . . . . .	254
Blood drawn from ears as offering to the dead . . . . .	255
Pieces of ears cut off by mourners . . . . .	255
Blood drawn from ears as an offering to the gods in Mexico . . . . .	256
Ears and noses bored to secure happiness in the other world . . . . .	259
Noses bored from superstitious motives in Australia . . . . .	260

CONTENTS

xiii
PAGE

All customs of mutilating the human body probably originated in superstition . . . . .	261
Ears of animals cut off in sacrifice . . . . .	262
Ewe custom to prevent a slave from running away . . . . .	263
Magical intention of boring a servant's ear . . . . .	264
Wolof custom of cutting the ear of a new master . . . . .	265
Intention of the custom perhaps to form a blood-bond . . . . .	266
Toradja custom of burning the hair of a new master's child . . . . .	266
Magical use of blood or hair in these customs . . . . .	267
Toradja custom of cutting off a piece of a buffalo's ear to keep the buffalo from straying . . . . .	268
Hebrew custom of boring a servant's ear perhaps a magical rite . . . . .	269

CHAPTER IV

CUTTINGS FOR THE DEAD

Hebrew customs of cutting the body and shearing the hair in mourning . . . . .	270
Similar Philistine and Moabite customs . . . . .	271
The customs forbidden in the Deuteronomic code . . . . .	271
The customs forbidden in the Levitical code . . . . .	272
Both customs common in mourning throughout the world . . . . .	273
Arab custom of scratching the face and shearing the hair in mourning . . . . .	273
Similar mourning customs in ancient Greece . . . . .	274
Assyrian, Armenian, and Roman custom of scratching faces in mourning . . . . .	274
Faces gashed and hair shorn by mourners among Scythians, Huns, Slavs, and Caucasian peoples . . . . .	275
Bodies scratched and hair shorn by mourners in Africa . . . . .	276
Bodies lacerated and hair shorn by mourners in Indian tribes of North America . . . . .	277
Bodies lacerated and hair shorn by mourners in Indian tribes of South America . . . . .	282
Bodies lacerated by mourners among the Turks and tribes in Sumatra, New Guinea, and the New Hebrides . . . . .	283
Hair shorn and offered to the dead by mourners in Halmahera . . . . .	284
Bodies lacerated and hair shorn by mourners in Tahiti . . . . .	285
Bodies lacerated by mourners in Hawaii . . . . .	287
Bodies lacerated by mourners in Tonga . . . . .	288
Bodies lacerated in mourning in Samoa, Mangaia, and the Marquesas Islands . . . . .	289
Bodies lacerated and hair shorn by mourners among the Maoris . . . . .	290
Bodies lacerated and hair shorn by mourners among the Australian aborigines . . . . .	291
Blood of mourners applied to the corpse or the grave . . . . .	296
Severed hair of mourners applied to the corpse . . . . .	297
Bodies lacerated and hair shorn by mourners among the Tasmanians . . . . .	297
Body lacerated and hair shorn perhaps as disguise against ghost . . . . .	297

	PAGE
Fear of ghost shown in Australian mourning customs . . . . .	298
Desire to propitiate ghost shown in Australian mourning customs . . . . .	298
Offerings of blood and hair to the dead . . . . .	299
How the blood may be thought to benefit the dead . . . . .	300
How the hair may be thought to benefit the dead . . . . .	302
Customs of cutting the body and shearing the hair in mourning evidence of a worship of the dead . . . . .	303

CHAPTER V

THE BITTER WATER

§ 1. The Ordeal of the Bitter Water in Israel

Hebrew ordeal for the trial of an adulteress . . . . .	304
The mode of procedure in the ordeal . . . . .	305
Probable antiquity of the ordeal . . . . .	306

§ 2. The Poison Ordeal in Africa

The ordeal by drinking poison in Africa . . . . .	307
Bark of Erythrophleum guineense used in the poison ordeal . . . . .	307
Diffusion of the poison ordeal in Africa . . . . .	308
Different species of Erythrophleum in Africa . . . . .	309
Diffusion of Erythrophleum compared with diffusion of the poison ordeal . . . . .	310
The poison ordeal among the Balantes of Senegal . . . . .	312
The ordeal among the Bagnouns of the Casamance River . . . . .	316
The ordeal among the Sereres of Senegambia . . . . .	316
The ordeal among the Landamas and Naloos of Senegal . . . . .	318
The ordeal among the Mossi of Upper Senegal . . . . .	319
The water of the ordeal tintured with sacred earth . . . . .	319
Ordeal of poisoned arrows among the Kassounas-Fras . . . . .	321
Use of a sacred bough to detect a culprit . . . . .	321
Ordeal of poisoned arrows among the Bouras . . . . .	322
Use of a sacred bough and hair to detect a culprit . . . . .	322
Corpse questioned as to the cause of its death . . . . .	322
The poison ordeal in Sierra Leone . . . . .	323
Clothes and nails of the corpse used in interrogatory . . . . .	325
The red water . . . . .	326
Comparison with the bitter water of the Hebrews . . . . .	328
The poison ordeal in Liberia . . . . .	329
The poison ordeal among the Kru negroes . . . . .	329
Hair and nails of the corpse used in interrogatory . . . . .	330
The poison ordeal among the Neyaux of the Ivory Coast . . . . .	330
The poison ordeal on the Gold Coast . . . . .	331
The poison ordeal in Togoland . . . . .	333
The poison ordeal on the Slave Coast . . . . .	334
The poison ordeal at Benin . . . . .	335
Calabar bean in the poison ordeal in Southern Nigeria . . . . .	335

CONTENTS

	XV
	PAGE
The poison ordeal at Calabar . . . . .	336
Devastating effects of the ordeal . . . . .	336
Action of the poison on the human body . . . . .	337
The poison ordeal among the Kagoro of Northern Nigeria . . . . .	338
General account of the poison ordeal in Upper Guinea . . . . .	338
Intelligence ascribed to the red water . . . . .	340
The poison ordeal on the Cross River in Cameroons . . . . .	340
The ordeal among the Bayas of French Congo . . . . .	341
The ordeal among the Fans of the Gaboon . . . . .	342
Power of divination thought to be conferred by the poison . . . . .	343
Personification of the poison . . . . .	345
The ordeal among the Otandos of the Gaboon . . . . .	345
The test of dropping poison in the eye . . . . .	348
The poison ordeal in the Congo valley . . . . .	348
The poison ordeal in Loango . . . . .	348
The universal belief in witchcraft . . . . .	350
Drinking the poison by proxy . . . . .	351
Merolla on the poison ordeal in Congo . . . . .	351
Proyart on the poison ordeal in Loango and Congo . . . . .	352
The poison ordeal in the Congo State . . . . .	353
The two poisons employed in the ordeal in Loango . . . . .	356
Superstitions about the poison-tree . . . . .	356
The poison ordeal among the Bakongo . . . . .	358
The ordeal among the Bangala . . . . .	359
The ordeal among the Ababua, Nyam-nyam; and Mambuttus . . . . .	361
The ordeal among the Bambala . . . . .	362
The ordeal among the Ba-yaka, Ba-huana, and Bangongo . . . . .	363
The ordeal among the Bashilange and Baluba . . . . .	364
The ordeal among the Balunda . . . . .	365
The ordeal in Angola . . . . .	366
The ordeal among the Songos of Angola . . . . .	369
General absence of the poison ordeal in South Africa . . . . .	370
The poison ordeal among the Zulus . . . . .	370
The ordeal among the Bawenda of the Transvaal . . . . .	371
The ordeal among the Thonga . . . . .	372
The ordeal in Sofala and Manica . . . . .	375
The ordeal on the Zambesi . . . . .	377
The ordeal in British Central Africa . . . . .	379
The ordeal among the Tumbuka . . . . .	382
Sorcery, poisoning, and cannibalism associated . . . . .	382
The ordeal among the Awemba of Rhodesia . . . . .	383
Ceremony at obtaining the bark from the poison-tree . . . . .	383
Sorcery, poisoning, and cannibalism associated in Nyanja-speaking tribes of British Central Africa . . . . .	385
The poison ordeal in these tribes . . . . .	386
Native Nyanja account of the poison ordeal . . . . .	387
The medicine-man's song . . . . .	389
The ordeal among the Bantu tribes of German East Africa . . . . .	393

	PAGE
The ordeal among the Wafipa . . . . .	394
The ordeal among the Wanyamwesi, Wagogo, and Wahehe . . . . .	395
The ordeal among the tribes of British East Africa . . . . .	396
Ordeal by drinking blood among the Masai and Suk . . . . .	397
The poison ordeal among the Bantu tribes of Kavirondo . . . . .	397
The poison ordeal among the Basoga . . . . .	399
The poison ordeal among the Baganda . . . . .	399
The poison ordeal among the Banyoro . . . . .	400
The poison ordeal among the Wawira . . . . .	400
The poison ordeal among the Gallas . . . . .	401

§ 3. The Poison Ordeal in Madagascar

The poison extracted from the tagena tree . . . . .	401
The procedure in the ordeal . . . . .	402
Prayers addressed to the god in the poison . . . . .	402
Animals as proxies in the ordeal . . . . .	404

§ 4. The Poison Ordeal in India

Judicial ordeals in ancient Indian law . . . . .	405
Various kinds of ordeal . . . . .	405
The laws of Vishnu on the poison ordeal . . . . .	406
Prayer addressed to the poison . . . . .	407
Other ancient Indian accounts of the poison ordeal . . . . .	407
Prayer addressed to the poison . . . . .	408
Aconite the poison employed in the ordeal . . . . .	409

§ 5. The Geographical Diffusion of the Poison Ordeal

The poison ordeal seemingly confined to Africa, Madagascar, and India . . . . .	410
---	-----

§ 6. The Meaning of the Poison Ordeal

The poison ordeal apparently assumes the personality and intelligence of the poison . . . . .	411
---	-----

§ 7. The Drinking of the Written Curse

Written curses washed off into the bitter water . . . . .	412
Practice of drinking water into which writing has been washed . . . . .	413
The practice in Africa . . . . .	413
The practice in Madagascar, Tibet, China, Annam, and Japan . . . . .	414

CHAPTER VI

THE OX THAT GORED

Homicidal ox to be stoned to death . . . . .	415
Blood revenge extended by Kukis to animals and trees . . . . .	415

CONTENTS

	xvii
	PAGE
Trees that have caused a death felled by Ainos . . . . .	416
Homicidal weapons destroyed or rendered useless . . . . .	417
River that has drowned a man stabbed by the Kachins . . . . .	418
Homicidal buffaloes put to death in Malacca and Celebes . . . . .	418
Arab treatment of homicidal animals . . . . .	419
Punishment of worrying dog in the Zend-Avesta . . . . .	419
Trial of animals and things in ancient Athens . . . . .	420
Trial of animals and things recommended by Plato . . . . .	421
Trial and punishment of things in Thasos . . . . .	422
Statues punished at Olympia and Rome . . . . .	423
Animals punished in ancient Rome . . . . .	423
Trial and punishment of animals in modern Europe . . . . .	424
Ecclesiastical jurisdiction over wild animals and vermin . . . . .	424
Mode of proceeding against animals in ecclesiastical courts . . . . .	425
Examples of the prosecution of animals in Europe . . . . .	427
Lawsuit brought by St. Julien against coleopterous insects . . . . .	428
Lawsuit against rats at Autun . . . . .	429
Proceedings taken by the Stelvio against field-mice . . . . .	430
Proceedings taken by Berne against vermin called inger . . . . .	431
Proceedings against Spanish flies at Coire and leeches at Lausanne . . . . .	432
Proceedings against caterpillars at Villenose and Strambino . . . . .	433
Proceedings against caterpillars in Savoy . . . . .	434
Proceedings against ants in Brazil . . . . .	435
Proceedings against rats and mice in Bouranton . . . . .	437
Trial and punishment of domestic animals by the civil power . . . . .	438
Trial and execution of a homicidal sow at Savigny . . . . .	438
Execution of sows at various places . . . . .	439
Execution of other animals in France . . . . .	440
Execution of a cock at Bâle for laying an egg . . . . .	441
Execution of dogs in New England . . . . .	442
Animals cited as witnesses in Savoy . . . . .	442
The bell of La Rochelle punished for heresy . . . . .	443
The English law of deodand . . . . .	443
Adam Smith on the punishment of lifeless objects . . . . .	444
The primitive personification of things reflected in primitive law . . . . .	445

CHAPTER VII

THE GOLDEN BELLS

Jewish priest's robe hung with golden bells . . . . .	446
Sound of the bells perhaps intended to drive off demons . . . . .	446
Clash of bronze to drive away spirits in antiquity . . . . .	447
Use of church bells to drive away evil spirits . . . . .	448
Longfellow on church bells in The Golden Legend . . . . .	449
The Passing Bell . . . . .	450
The Passing Bell rung to banish demons . . . . .	451

	PAGE
Dante on the Vesper Bell . . . . .	452
Bret Harte on the Angelus . . . . .	453
Renan on the bells of Rome and Venice . . . . .	453
Importance of the emotional side of folk-lore . . . . .	454
Church bells rung to drive away witches . . . . .	454
The bellman and his benediction . . . . .	455
Milton, Herrick, and Addison on the bellman . . . . .	456
Church bells rung to drive away thunderstorms . . . . .	457
Consecration of bells : inscriptions on bells . . . . .	459
Delrio on the consecration and ringing of church bells . . . . .	459
Bacon on the ringing of bells in thunderstorms . . . . .	460
Famous bells . . . . .	460
The bells of Caloto in South America . . . . .	461
Bells used by the Bateso to exorcize thunder and lightning . . . . .	462
Gongs beaten by the Chinese in thunder-storms . . . . .	463
Church bells thought by New Guinea people to ban ghosts . . . . .	463
Bells used by the Pueblo Indians in exorcism . . . . .	464
Gongs beaten by the Chinese to exorcize demons . . . . .	465
Bells used by the Annamese in exorcism . . . . .	466
Religious use of bells in Burma . . . . .	466
Bells and metal instruments sounded at funerals and in mourning among primitive folk . . . . .	467
Gongs and bells used in Borneo to drive off demons . . . . .	468
Bells attached to an honoured visitor among the Dyaks . . . . .	469
Bells worn by priests in India and children in China . . . . .	470
Bells worn by children in Africa to keep off demons . . . . .	471
Bells rung to keep demons from women after childbirth . . . . .	472
The infant Zeus and the Curetes . . . . .	472
Evil spirits kept off at childbirth by armed men among the Tagalogs of the Philippines . . . . .	473
Evil spirits kept off at childbirth by armed men among the Kachins of Burma . . . . .	474
Evil spirits kept off at childbirth by clash of metal, etc., among various peoples . . . . .	475
Precautions against Silvanus at childbirth among the Romans . . . . .	476
Tinkling anklets worn by girls among the Sunars . . . . .	477
Bells used by girls at circumcision among the Nandi . . . . .	477
Bells used to ward off demons on the Congo and the Victoria Nyanza . . . . .	478
Use of bells by priests, prophets, and medicine-men in Africa . . . . .	478
Function of the Jewish priest's golden bells . . . . .	480
 INDEX . . . . .	 481