

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
Abbreviations	xii
Introduction	1
0.1. Sacred Marriage: a Definition	1
0.2. Previous Views on the Sumerian Sacred Marriage	3
0.2.1. Fertility Ritual	3
0.2.2. Coronation Ceremony	6
0.2.3. Legitimization of Kingship: Deification of the King	6
0.2.4. Blessings for the King	6
0.2.5. An Heir to the Throne	7
0.2.6. Installation of en or nin-diĝir Priestesses	8
0.2.7. The en-ship of Inanna	10
0.2.8. Secular Love Songs, Songs of Rite de Passage	12
0.2.9. Love Songs of the Court	13
0.3. Problems with the Understanding of the Sumerian Sacred Marriage	14
0.4. The Comparative Approach	15
0.5. The Relevance of the Comparative Evidence	16
0.6. The Common Elements of the Different Traditions	17
0.7. Problems of Comparison and Possible Pitfalls	18
0.8. The Esotericism of Sacred Marriage Traditions	19
0.9. The Method	20
0.10. The Aims and Scope of the Study	24
0.11. Organization of the Study and Manner of Presentation	25
0.12. Terminology and Conventions	26
Part One: The Evidence	29
1.1. Introduction	29
1.2. Dumuzi-Inanna Love Songs	30
1.3. Other Sumerian Evidence	59
1.3.1. The Sumerian and Akkadian Kings as Inanna's Husbands	59
1.3.2. The Bridewealth of Ningirsu and Baba and Dumuzi and Inanna	62
1.4. Archaeological Evidence	65
Part Two: Constituents of the Sumerian Sacred Marriage	69
2.1. The Actors in the Sacred Marriage	69
2.2. The Timing of the Sacred Marriage of Inanna and Dumuzi	77
2.3. The Scene of the Sumerian Sacred Marriage	79
Part Three: Comparative Evidence and Thematic Analysis	81
3.1. The First Millennium Textual Sources in Mesopotamia	81
3.1.1. Introduction	81
3.1.2. Nabû and Tašmetu	83
3.1.3. Nabû and Nanaya	87
3.1.4. Samaš and Aya and the Ladies of Sippar and Uruk	87
3.1.5. Marduk and Zarpanitu	88

3.1.6. Anu and Antu.....	90
3.2. The Song of Songs.....	91
3.2.1. Dating and Interpretation of the Song of Songs.....	91
3.2.2. The Song of Songs and the Mesopotamian Love Songs.....	96
3.3. Jewish Mysticism (Kabbalah).....	98
3.3.1. Introduction.....	98
3.3.2. The Sefirotic Tree.....	101
3.3.3. The Shekhinah.....	102
3.3.4. The Zaddiq: His Task and Union with God.....	104
3.3.5. The Sabbath Bride.....	109
3.4. The Idea of the Tree of Life in Mesopotamia.....	111
3.4.1. Introduction.....	111
3.4.2. The Assyrian Tree.....	112
3.4.3. The King as a Tree.....	114
3.5. Inanna as the Bearer of All Powers and the King as a Channel for the Divine Blessings.....	118
3.6. Inanna/Ištar and Her Maternal Aspect.....	125
3.7. The Concept of the Soul.....	131
3.7.1. Comparative Evidence.....	131
3.7.1.1. Ancient Egyptian Beliefs.....	131
3.7.1.2. Vedic Beliefs.....	132
3.7.1.3. Ancient Greek Beliefs.....	133
3.7.1.4. Jewish Beliefs.....	135
3.7.1.5. Christian Beliefs.....	137
Table I. Concepts of the Soul and Its Afterlife.....	139
3.7.2. The Soul in Mesopotamia.....	139
3.7.3. The Tree and the Soul.....	145
3.7.4. The Netherworld and Afterlife in Mesopotamia.....	147
3.8. Inanna/Ištar as a Pure and Androgynous Virgin and Her Androgynous Devotees.....	155
3.9. The Descent and the Ascent: the Changing Status in the Sacred Marriage and the Adorning of the Bride.....	166
3.9.1. The Gnostic Tradition.....	166
3.9.1.1. The Gnostic Pleroma.....	167
3.9.1.2. The Exegesis on the Soul.....	168
3.9.1.3. The Apocryphon of John.....	169
3.9.1.4. Simon Magus and Helena of Tyre.....	170
3.9.1.5. The Hymn of the Pearl.....	171
3.9.1.6. The Ascent of the Soul with the Help of the Redeemer and the Bridal Chamber in Gnosis.....	171
3.9.2. Plato, Philo and Hekate of the Chaldean Oracles.....	176
3.9.3. The Matronit-Shekhinah of Jewish Mysticism: Her Exile and Reunion with her Brother.....	180
3.9.4. Hindu Tradition.....	183
3.9.4.1. The Marriage of the Goddess Mīnākṣī (Pārvatī) and the God Sundarēśvara (Śiva).....	183
3.9.4.2. The Fall and the Ascent of Mīnākṣī.....	184
3.9.4.3. The Marriages of Śiva and Mīnākṣī: Joining the Family Lineage and Marriage as a Soteriological Act.....	185
3.9.5. Inanna's/Ištar's Descent to the Netherworld.....	189
3.9.6. The Adorning of the Bride: Providing Her with Wisdom.....	194
3.9.7. The Savior King Ninurta and His Army of Stones.....	207
3.10. The Garden.....	212
3.10.1. The Words Garden/Orchard/Vineyard Used as a Metaphor for the Woman or the Man.....	212
3.10.2. The Garden as the Place for the Lovers' Encounter.....	214

3.10.3. The Garden as the Place for Receiving Wisdom	217
3.10.4. The Garden and the Gardener in the Story of Inanna and Šukalletuda	220
3.11. Wisdom in the Texts: Uniting with God	227
3.12. The Motif of a Beautiful Woman at the Window	232
3.12.1. Inanna as Kilili at the Window	233
3.12.2. The Function of the Window Motif	236
Part Four: Summary and Conclusions	241
4.1. General Conclusions	241
4.2. The Timing of the Sacred Marriage	245
4.3. The Different Roles of the Bride and Bridegroom in the Sacred Marriage Songs	246
4.3.1. Inanna as the Goddess and Dumuzi/King as the Provider of Well-Being and Fertility	246
4.3.2. Inanna as the Soul and Dumuzi/King as the Savior	248
Appendix A: Revised Typology of the Sumerian Love Songs	253
Appendix B: The Ancient Egyptian Love Poetry	263
Appendix C: Ugaritic Evidence	263
C.1. Anat and Baal and Their Relationship with Each Other	263
C.2. The Ugaritic Tree-Weapon and Mesopotamian Parallels	265
Bibliography	271
Indices	295