

CONTENTS

Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xii
General Introduction
The Contents of This Collection	xv
Gnostic Scripture and the Christian Bible	xvii
Scripture, Canon, and Diversity	xvii
Gnostic Scripture	xxi
Valentinian Writings	xxii
Conclusions	xxiii
The Nature of the Primary Sources	xxiii
Sources in Greek	xxiii
Sources in Other Languages
Irenaeus	xxv
Ancient Translations of Scripture Manuscripts	xxv
Editorial Method	xxix
Explanation of Typographical and Reference Systems	xxxi
Other Accepted Names for the Works in This Collection	xxxv
Ancient Sources and Manuscripts of Works in This Collection	xxxvii
Illustrations	xxxix
List of Abbreviations	xli

THE GNOSTIC SCRIPTURES

I

CLASSIC GNOSTIC SCRIPTURE

Historical Introduction	5
The Secret Book According to John	23
The Revelation of Adam	52
The Reality of the Rulers	65
The Thunder—Perfect Intellect	77
First Thought in Three Forms	86
The Holy Book of the Great Invisible Spirit, or, The Egyptian Gospel	101
Zōstrianos (excerpts)	121
The Foreigner (excerpts)	141
The Three Tablets of Seth	149
Satorninos (according to St. Irenaeus)	159
The Gnostics (according to St. Irenaeus)	163
“Other” Gnostic Teachings (according to St. Irenaeus)	170
The Gnostics (according to Porphyry)	182
The Sethians (according to St. Epiphanius)	185
The Archontics (according to St. Epiphanius)	191
The Gnostics (according to St. Epiphanius)	199

II

THE WRITINGS OF VALENTINUS

Historical Introduction	217
Valentinus’s Myth (according to St. Irenaeus)	223
Fragments of Lost Works	229
The Divine Word Present in the Infant (Fragment A)	230
On the Three Natures (Fragment B)	232
Adam’s Faculty of Speech (Fragment C)	234
Adam’s Name (Fragment D)	236
To Agathopous: Jesus’ Digestive System (Fragment E)	238
Annihilation of the Realm of Death (Fragment F)	240
On Friends: The Source of Common Wisdom (Fragment G)	242
Epistle on Attachments: The Vision of God (Fragment H)	244
Summer Harvest	246
Appendix: A Later Allegorical Interpretation	249
The Gospel of Truth	250

III

THE SCHOOL OF VALENTINUS

Historical Introduction	267
Ptolemy's Version of the Gnostic Myth (according to St. Irenaeus)	276
A Prayer of Paul the Apostle	303
Ptolemy's Epistle to Flora	306
Treatise on Resurrection (Epistle to Rheginus)	316
The Gospel According to Philip	325

Related Writings

IV

THE SCHOOL OF ST. THOMAS

Historical Introduction	359
The Hymn of the Pearl, or, The Hymn of Jude Thomas the Apostle in the Country of the Indians	366
The Gospel According to Thomas	376
The Book of Thomas: The Contender Writing to the Perfect	400

V

OTHER EARLY CURRENTS

Historical Introduction	413
The Writings of Basilides
Historical Introduction	417
Basilides' Myth (according to St. Irenaeus)	420
Fragments of Lost Works	427
The Cosmological Fragments
The Octet of Subsistent Entities (Fragment A)	428
The Uniqueness of the World (Fragment B)	430
The Ethical Fragments
Election Naturally Entails Faith and Virtue (Fragment C)	432
The State of Virtue (Fragment D)	434
The Elect Transcend the World (Fragment E)	436
Reincarnation (Fragment F)	438
Human Suffering and the Goodness of Providence (Commentaries , 23) (Fragment G)	440
Forgivable Sins (Fragment H)	444

The Hermetic Corpus (excerpts)	445
Historical Introduction	447
Tractate 1: Poimandrēs	449
Tractate 7: That the Greatest Human Evil Is Unacquaintance with God	460
General Bibliography	463
Indexes
Subject Index	467
Scriptural Index	519