

CONTENTS

Preface	VII
---------	-----

Abbreviations	IX
---------------	----

PART 1: THE HISTORICAL LITERATURE

Chapter 1: The Literary Genres of the Former Prophets

1. History and other literary genres	7
2. Folk stories: anecdotes, Märchen ('fairy tales'), sagas, tribal stories, heroic legends	8
3. Compositions from the royal court: lists of officials, administrative lists, annals, history	18
4. From the sanctuaries and priesthood: cultic legends (positive and negative), 'YHWH's saving acts', temple chronicles	30
5. Stories of the prophets' disciples: legenda , historiography, biography, paradigm and parable	36

Chapter 2: The Composition of the Former Prophets

1. The question of uniformity and continuity	42
2. The documentary hypothesis and its decline	44
3. The hypothesis of a deuteronomistic composition	45
4. The Ephraimite and the deuteronomistic compositions and their methods	52
5. The Saul and David chapters	62
6. The organization of the Former Prophets	66

Chapter 3: Late Historiography

1. The Book of Chronicles: date of composition	70
2. The Book of Chronicles: sources, reliability and ideological goals	75
3. The Book of Ezra–Nehemiah	85
4. Ezra–Nehemiah and Chronicles	90
5. Nehemiah's memoirs; the end of Israelite historiography	95

Chapter 4: Late Narrative

1. The betrothal of Rebekah and the redemption of Ruth	100
2. Naboth's vineyard and Susanna's orchard	109
3. Circumcision at Shechem and an altar at the Jordan	116
4. David and Goliath, Ahab and Ben-hadad	123
5. Daniel and Nebuchadnezzar, Jeremiah and Nebuzaradan	134
6. The Book of Esther	147

PART 2: THE COMPOSITION OF THE PENTATEUCH

Chapter 1: Tradition and Criticism

1. The traditional view	159
2. Undermining the traditional view	162
3. The critical method: the Pentateuch's multiplicity of authors	166

Chapter 2: The Documentary Hypothesis: Identifying and Characterizing the Documents

1. Identifying one of the documents in the legal portion of the Pentateuch	177
2. Identifying one of the documents in the narrative portions of the Pentateuch	180
3. Connecting the document now identified with the legal material: the Priestly laws	183
4. Additional portions of P	185
5. The inlaying of documents; further identification of P	187
6. The character of P	189
7. Identifying and characterizing D	195
8. Identifying and characterizing the J and E documents	206

Chapter 3: Dating the Documents

1. De Wette's hypothesis regarding the date of D	214
2. Dating the remaining documents — Wellhausen and Kaufmann; conclusions	217
3. More on the dates and origins of D and P	227
4. The question of the Holiness Code (H)	233
5. Series of laws; the sources of Israelite law	237
6. Late strata in the legal compilations	243

Chapter 4: Challenges to the Documentary Hypothesis

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. Form-criticism | 250 |
| 2. Additional independent documents; the problem with the documentary hypothesis model | 253 |
| 3. History of tradition | 256 |
| 4. Cassuto's response to the documentary hypothesis | 267 |
| 5. Factual evidence for historico-literary criticism of the Pentateuch | 274 |

Epilogue: The Composition of the Pentateuch in the Light of Biblical Criticism

292

PART 3: THE PROPHETIC LITERATURE

Chapter 1: The Nature of the Prophetic Books

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1. The first commitment of prophetic words to writing | 301 |
| 2. Speeches by distinct prophets juxtaposed in one book | 302 |
| 3. Secondary expansion of prophetic words | 311 |
| 4. The elaboration of prophetic words by the disciples | 319 |
| 5. Redaction in prophetic books | 324 |
| 6. Prophecies of consolation: are they original? | 328 |
| 7. Profile of a prophetic book: Isaiah 1–39 | 333 |

Chapter 2: The Arrangement of the Prophetic Books

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1. Typical structure of the prophetic books | 337 |
| 2. Smaller collections of prophecies | 339 |
| 3. Identifying short units | 341 |
| 4. Principles of the arrangement of units | 346 |
| 5. The origin and nature of short prophetic units | 350 |

Chapter 3: Genres of Prophetic Speech

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1. Divine word and prophetic speech | 353 |
| 2. 'Thus has said YHWH' — a messenger formula | 358 |
| 3. Types of ancient prophecy | 360 |
| 4. The legacy of ancient prophecy as embedded in classical prophecy | 366 |

Chapter 4: Social Functions of the Prophets

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. Prophet, king and war; prophecies against the nations | 374 |
| 2. Prophets and temple | 377 |

Chapter 5: The Prophets in the Light of Historico-Literary Criticism

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. The prophets vis-à-vis their disciples | 382 |
| 2. Tradition, reproof and prediction in prophetic speeches | 385 |
| 3. The attitude to the cult | 398 |

Chapter 6: Prophecy and Apocalyptic

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. The age of apocalypses; their pseudepigraphic nature | 402 |
| 2. The reinterpretation of ancient prophecies; inquisitive character; expectation of the 'end' | 404 |
| 3. Angelology; unity of the worlds | 405 |
| 4. Predestination and historical perspective | 406 |
| 5. Universal outlook and the end of this world | 408 |

PART 4: PSALMODY

Chapter 1: Psalmody and the Book of Psalms

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1. Psalmody and its scope | 413 |
| 2. The Book of Psalms – its five books; the Elohist Psalter | 417 |
| 3. Collections within the Psalter; the arrangement of psalms by association | 422 |
| 4. The alphabetic acrostic psalms and their text | 427 |
| 5. The text of the Book of Psalms | 431 |

Chapter 2: The History of Psalms Literature

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. The traditional view and its difficulties | 441 |
| 2. Historical criticism in the nineteenth century | 446 |
| 3. The Gunkel school: literary genres and their Sitz im Leben | 454 |
| 4. Criticism of Gunkel; the West Semitic heritage | 466 |
| 5. Psalms of the enthronement of YHWH – the hypothesis of Mowinckel | 471 |
| 6. Dating the psalms on linguistic evidence | 479 |

Chapter 3: Literary Aspects of Psalmody

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1. The Psalms as an expression of creative imagination | 485 |
| 2. Meir Weiss's 'total interpretation' method | 494 |
| 3. Evaluating literary expression according to A.L. Strauss | 504 |

PART 5: THE WISDOM LITERATURE

Chapter 1: Wise and Wisdom in the Biblical Period

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1. Wise and wisdom in the Bible; rhetoric | 513 |
| 2. Expediency | 517 |
| 3. Wisdom and morality | 521 |
| 4. Wisdom and Israelite heritage | 525 |

Chapter 2: The Wise and the History of Biblical Proverbs

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1. The court and the city | 529 |
| 2. The folk proverb and its reworking | 531 |
| 3. The admonition | 535 |
| 4. The development of proverbs: the speech and the debate | 538 |

Chapter 3: From Proverbs to Collections

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. The creation and arrangement of collections in the Book of Proverbs | 542 |
| 2. The editing of the Book of Proverbs | 549 |
| 3. Ecclesiastes | 553 |
| 4. Ben Sira | 557 |
| 5. Tractate Avot | 564 |

Chapter 4: The Proverb and Other Wisdom Genres

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. The characteristics of the proverb | 568 |
| 2. The fable and the quotation proverb | 576 |
| 3. The riddle and the serial saying | 583 |
| 4. The numerical saying | 588 |

Chapter 5: Divine Wisdom

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1. Wisdom as a divine trait | 592 |
| 2. Wisdom as a divine gift; wise men and prophets | 594 |

VI	Content
3. Divine wisdom and human wisdom: the debate	598
4. Divine wisdom becomes sectarian	602
Epilogue	607
Index of Biblical Passages	611
Index of Authors	657