

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
Editors' acknowledgements	x
List of contributors	xi
Introduction: dichotomies and debates in corpora and ESP/EAP writing	1
MAGGIE CHARLES & ANA FRANKENBERG-GARCIA
PART I
Preparation	11
1 Exploiting corpora to provide guidance for academic writing: the BAWE Quicklinks project	13
BENET VINCENT, HILARY NESI & DANIEL QUINN
2 Discipline-specific academic phraseology: corpus evidence and potential applications	32
GERAINT PAUL REES
PART II
Exploitation	55
3 Exploring the relationships between English writing motivation and uptake of corpus-aided corrective feedback: a longitudinal study	57
HSIEN-CHIN LIOU & SZU-YU LIU

vi	Contents
4	Exploiting a genre-specific corpus in ESP writing: students' preferences and strategies KATHERINE ACKERLEY	78
5	Undergraduate students' responses to a corpus-based ESP course with DIY corpora REKA R. JABLONKAI & NEVA ČEBRON	100
	PART III
	Analysis	121
6	The use of stance in L2 first-year college writing: its relation to genre, revision, and writer characteristics JI-YOUNG SHIN	123
7	Identifying collocation issues in English L2 research article writing PAULA TAVARES PINTO, GERAINT PAUL REES & ANA FRANKENBERG-GARCIA	147
	Afterword LYNNE FLOWERDEW	171
	Index	176