

Contents

Preface	vii
Map	ix
Dedication	x
Introduction and Overview of the Life of Muhammad	1
Donner's Reply to the Skeptics	6
Enter Muhammad: An Overview	8
The Battle of the Trench	12
1 Ibn Khaldun's Social and Economic Theory	16
Bedouins and Sedentary Peoples	16
Asabiyah	17
2 Pre-Islamic Arabia	25
The Hijaz on the Eve of the Rise of Islam	27
Pre-Islamic Religion	29
3 The Role of Abraham, Hagar, and Ishmael	36
Who was the Sacrificial Son?	37
The Islamic Theory that Abraham, Ishmael, and Hagar Traveled to the Valley of Mecca	38
Abraham, Ishmael, and the Kaaba	40
William Muir on the Abrahamic Question	41
Muir on the Founding of Mecca and the Abrahamic Legend	43

4	Recent and Current Scholarship	46
	The Religion of Mecca	48
	The Kaaba and its Devotees	49
	Hanifiya and the Religion of Abraham	50
	More on Pre-Islamic Religion in the Arabian Peninsula	63
5	Possible Influences on Muhammad's Inspiration	74
	Jewish Historians on the Jews of Arabia	78
	Baron on Pre-Islamic, Arab–Jewish Relations in Arabia	82
6	The Jews of Arabia: A Recent Re-Examination	87
7	Richard Bell's Origin of Islam in its Christian Environment	95
8	W. Montgomery Watt's Muhammad	107
	Watt's Muhammad at Mecca	107
	The Daughters of Allah or the So-Called Satanic Verses	112
	More on the "Daughters of Allah" Affair	113
	A Sociological Argument	118
	Watt's Muhammad at Medina	120
9	Muhammad at Medina: William Muir's Analysis	124
	Muhammad and the Jewish Tribes of Medina	125
	The Battle of Badr	128
	Current Research on the Massacre of the B. Qurayza	133
	The Conquest of Khaybar	133
10	Muhammad and the Jews	137
	Muhammad and the Jews: G. D. Newby's Re-Examination of the Evidence	143
11	Concluding Sociological Reflections	154
	Abu Bakr and the Ridda	162
	Notes	165
	Bibliography	170
	Index	175