

Contents

Notes on contributors	vii
1 The Qur'an and the reformation of Judaism and Christianity	1
HOLGER M. ZELLENTIN
PART I
The Qur'an, the Bible, and the Islamic tradition	23
2 What would Ibn Taymiyyah make of intertextual study of the Qur'an? The challenge of the isrā'īliyyāt	25
JON HOOVER
3 Prophecy and writing in the Qur'an, or why Muhammad was not a scribe	31
ISLAM DAYEH
4 A "Religious Transformation in Late Antiquity": Qur'anic refigurations of pagan-Arab ideals based on biblical models	63
ANGELIKA NEUWIRTH
5 Meccan Gods, Jesus' divinity: an analysis of Q 43 Sūrat al-Zukhruf	92
WALID A. SALEH

PART II

The Qur'an and the Bible 113

- 6 Gentile purity law from the Bible to the Qur'an: the case of sexual purity and illicit intercourse 115

HOLGER M. ZELLENTIN

- 7 David and Solomon: antecedents, modalities, and consequences of their twinship in the Qur'an 216

GENEVIÈVE GOBILLOT

PART III

The Qur'an and Judaism 233

- 8 Pharaoh's submission to God in the Qur'an and in rabbinic literature: a case study in Qur'anic intertextuality 235

NICOLAI SINAI

- 9 The eschatological counter-discourse in the Qur'an and in the Babylonian Talmud, Sanhedrin 90b-91a 261

MEHDI AZAIEZ

PART IV

The Qur'an and Christianity 275

- 10 Thrice upon a time: Abraham's guests and the study of intra-Qur'anic parallels 277

JOSEPH WITZTUM

- 11 "Killing the prophets and stoning the messengers": two themes in the Qur'an and their background 303

GERALD HAWTING

- 12 On the Qur'an and Christian heresies 318

GABRIEL SAID REYNOLDS

- 13 Reflections on the Qur'an, Christianity, and intertextuality 333

MARY B. CUNNINGHAM

Index of Qur'anic references 344

Index 348