

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword	x
Uwe P. Gielen
Chapter One.....	1
Teaching Psychology around the Globe
Grant J. Rich
Latin America Section: M.C. Luis Alfredo Padilla López (Section Editor)
Chapter Two	6
Interdisciplinary Training of Psychologists in Rural Contexts
Alfredo Padilla-López, Griselda Guillén-Ojeda, Gilberto Galindo-Aldana, and Ana María Vázquez-Espinoza
Chapter Three	19
Training in Legal and Forensic Psychology in Hispanoamerica
Luz Anyela Morales Quintero, Eric García-López, and Ezequiel Mercurio
Chapter Four.....	34
Teaching and Training of Neuropsychology in Mexico
Gilberto Galindo-Aldana and Javier Galarza-del-Ángel
Chapter Five	49
Teaching Psychology in El Salvador: A Historical-Cultural Experience
Eduardo Cisneros and José Luis Henríquez
Chapter Six.....	61
Challenges of Training in Systemic Therapy in Latin America
Rodrigo Mardones Ibacache and Felipe E. García
Chapter Seven.....	73
Current Context of the Teaching of Psychology in Guatemala
Melanie Klie and María del Pilar Grazioso

Africa Section: Liesel Ebersöhn (Section Editor)

Chapter Eight.....	90
Teaching Psychology for Resilience in South Africa
Linda Theron

Chapter Nine.....	102
Teaching Community Psychology to Trainee Educational Psychologists to Facilitate School-Community Partnerships: Some Reflections from the Global South
Ronelle Carolissen

Chapter Ten	118
Teaching of Psychology: The Case of Some Cameroon Universities
Therese M. S. Tchombe

Chapter Eleven	140
Teaching Educational Psychologists-in-Training to Support Language Proficiency amongst Multilingual South African Students
Margaret Funke Omidire

Chapter Twelve	155
Educational Psychology in Botswana: Experiences and Challenges
Nonofo Losike-Sedimo and Bathesheba Mbongwe

Australia and New Zealand Aotearoa Section – Shirley Morrissey (Section Editor)

Chapter Thirteen.....	168
Introduction Australia and New Zealand Aotearoa Section
Shirley Morrissey

Chapter Fourteen	170
Competency based Accreditation Standards:
A New Era for the Accreditation of Psychology in Australia:
Comparison with Accreditation in New Zealand
Shirley Morrissey, Jacqueline Cranney, and B. J. Kennedy

Chapter Fifteen	187
A New Bachelor of Science: Embedding Scientific and Psychological Literacy
Frances Martin, Hollie Tose, and Bonnie McBain
Chapter Sixteen	205
Engaging Large First Year Classes Using Digital Technology
Jaclyn Broadbent and Jason M. Lodge
Chapter Seventeen	217
Innovating Internship in Aotearoa New Zealand
B. J. Kennedy and B. Stiles-Smith
Chapter Eighteen	230
Work Integrated Learning (WIL) to Identify and Develop the Strengths of Organisational Psychology Students
Christine Boag-Hodgson, Amy Hawkes, and Liz Jones
Chapter Nineteen	242
Using Objective Structured Clinical Examinations for Selection into and Progress through Postgraduate Training
Rachel Roberts and Kimberly Norris
Middle East Section: Grant J. Rich (Section Editor)
Chapter Twenty	254
Teaching of Psychology: The Case of Lebanon
Brigitte Khoury and Zeina Ramadan
Chapter Twenty-One	268
Psychology Teaching/Training in Egypt
Ramadan A. Ahmed
Chapter Twenty-Two.....	281
Psychology in Iran
Sayyed Moshen Fatemi, Mohammad Javad Asgharia Ebrahimabad, Seyed Mohammad Mahdi Moshirian Farahi, and Seyedeh Maryam Moshirian Farahi

Chapter Twenty-Three.....	291
Psychology as a Profession in Turkey: Current State and Challenges Mehmet Eskin, Zeynep Aycan, H. Canan Sümer, and Nebi Sümer
Chapter Twenty-Four	302
The Journey of Psychology Education in Turkey: Challenges and Opportunities Nebi Sümer, H. Canan Sümer, and Mehmet Eskin
Europe Section: Jacqui Taylor (Section Editor)
Chapter Twenty-Five.....	316
Developing Psychological Literacy in Students of Other Disciplines Jacqui Taylor and Sarah Coady
Chapter Twenty-Six.....	328
Training of Psychologists in Czech and Slovak Republics: Past and Present Iva Stuchliková and Lenka Sokolová
Chapter Twenty-Seven	340
The Journey into Psychology Starts at School: Pre-Tertiary Psychology Education in Europe Lenka Sokolová and Morag Williamson
Chapter Twenty-Eight	354
Psychology Education and Training: Preparing Psychologists for the Profession in the Netherlands Helen E. Bakker and Britt van Beek
Chapter Twenty-Nine	366
Psychology in Higher Education in Cyprus: Current State, Trends and Challenges Ahead Ioulia Papageorgi
Asia Section: Grant J. Rich (Section Editor)
Chapter Thirty	384
Teaching Psychology in Vietnam Skultip Sirikantraporn, Hong An Nguyen, and The-Huy Le Hoang

Chapter Thirty-One	400
The Development of Desired Characteristics of Psychologists in Undergraduate Psychology Students
Julia Suleeman
Chapter Thirty-Two.....	409
Teaching Psychology in Cambodia
Grant J. Rich
North America Section: Grant J. Rich (Section Editor)
Chapter Thirty-Three.....	418
Incorporating Indigenous Contexts in Canadian Clinical Psychology Training Programs
Josephine C. H. Tan
Chapter Thirty-Four.....	430
Teaching Liberation Psychology to Ugandan Graduate Students: Perspectives of a Global North Pan-Africanist
Chalmer Thompson
Chapter Thirty-Five	441
The Teaching and Training of Bilingual (English/Spanish) Mental Health Professionals in the United States
Andrés J. Consoli and Iliana Flores
Epilogue.....	455
Florence Denmark and Emily Rehbein
About the Book Editors	457
Praise for the Book	460