

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
1-26	The Joys of Heaven and Weddings there	3-31
27-41	Marriages in Heaven ... ..	32
28-31	1. That man lives as a man after death	32
32-33	2. That the male is then a male, and the female a female ... ..	35
34-36	3. That his own love remains with every one after death ... ..	36
37-38	4. That especially does love of the sex remain, and with those who come into heaven, being those who become spiritual on earth, conjugal love ...	38
39	5. These statements fully confirmed by ocular experience ... ..	38
40	6. That consequently there are marriages in the heavens ... ..	39
41	7. That spiritual nuptials are meant by the Lord's words, that after the resurrection they are not given in marriage ... ..	39
	MEMORABLE RELATIONS<sup>1</sup>
42-43	Conjugal love seen in its form, with two married partners carried down from heaven ... ..	41
44	Three novitiates from the world being informed respecting marriages in heaven	43
45-54	The State of Married Partners after Death ... ..	48-55
46-47	1. That after death, love of the sex remains with every man such as it had been interiorly, that is, in his interior will and thought, in the world ... ..	49
48	2. That conjugal love likewise remains such as it had been interiorly, that is, in the interior will and thought with man in the world ... ..	50

<sup>1</sup>In the Original Edition, the Table of Contents and the Table of Memorable Relations are separated. They are here combined.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
48a	3. That after death, two married partners, for the most part, meet, recognize each other, again consociate, and for some time live together; which takes place in the first state, that is, while they are in externals as in the world	50
48b	4. But that successively, as they put off externals and come into their internals, they perceive the nature of the love and inclination which they had for each other, and hence whether they can live together or not ...	51
49	5. That if they can live together, they remain married partners; but if they cannot, they separate, sometimes the man from the wife, sometimes the wife from the man, and sometimes each from the other ... ..	52
50	6. And that then a suitable wife is given to the man, and a suitable husband to the woman... ..	52
51-52	7. That married partners enjoy similar intercourse with each other as in the world, but more delightful and blessed, yet without prolication; for which, or in place of it, they have spiritual prolication, which is that of love and wisdom ... ..	53
53-54	8. That this is the case with those who go to heaven; not so with those who go to hell ... ..	54
	MEMORABLE RELATIONS
55	Concerning the chaste love of the sex ...	55
56	Concerning the Temple of Wisdom, where the causes of the beauty of the female sex are discussed by the wise... ..	58
57-73	Love Truly Conjugal ... ..	60-69
58-59	1. That there is a love truly conjugal, which is so rare at this day that it is not known what it is, and scarcely that it is	61
60-61	2. That the origin of this love is from the marriage of good and truth ... ..	62
62-63	3. That the correspondence of this love is with the marriage of the Lord and the Church ... ..	63

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
64	4. That regarded from its origin and correspondence, this love is celestial, spiritual, holy, pure, and clean, above every love which is from the Lord with the angels of heaven and the men of the Church ... ..	64
65-67	5. That it is also the fundamental love of all celestial and spiritual loves, and thence of all natural loves ... ..	64
68-69	6. And that into this love are gathered all joys and all delights from their first to their last ... ..	66
70-72	7. But that no others come into this love, and can be in it, save those who approach the Lord, love the truths of the Church, and do its goods ... ..	67
73	8. That this love was the love of loves with the Ancients who lived in the Golden, Silver, and Copper Ages ... ..	69
74	MEMORABLE RELATIONS
75	Concerning conjugal love with those who lived in the Golden Age ... ..	70
76	Concerning conjugal love with those who lived in the Silver Age ... ..	73
77	Concerning conjugal love with those who lived in the Copper Age ... ..	75
78	Concerning conjugal love with those who lived in the Iron Age ... ..	77
79-80	Concerning conjugal love with those who lived after those Ages ... ..	80
81	Concerning a glorification of the Lord by angels in the heavens, because of His Advent, and because of conjugal love ... ..	86
82	Concerning the Precepts of the New Church ... ..	88
83-102	The Origin of Conjugal Love from the Marriage of Good and Truth ... ..	90-100
84-86	1. That good and truth are the universals of creation, and hence are in all created things; but that they are in created subjects according to the form of each ... ..	91
87	2. That there is no solitary good, and no solitary truth, but that they are everywhere conjoined ... ..	92

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
88-89	3. That there is the truth of good and from this the good of truth, or truth from good and good from that truth; and that in these two there is implanted from creation an inclination to conjoin themselves into a one ...	93
90-91	4. That in subjects of the animal kingdom, the truth of good or truth from good is masculine; and that the good of truth therefrom, or good from that truth, is feminine ... ..	94
92-93	5. That from the influx of the marriage of good and truth from the Lord, there is love of the sex, and there is conjugal love... ..	96
94	6. That love of the sex belongs to the external or natural man, and hence is common to every animal ... ..	96
95-96	7. But that conjugal love belongs to the internal or spiritual man, and hence is proper to man ... ..	97
97	8. That with man, conjugal love is in love of the sex as a gem in its matrix	97
98	9. That with man, love of the sex is not the origin of conjugal love but is the first thereof; thus is as a natural external wherein is implanted a spiritual internal ... ..	98
99	10. That when conjugal love has been implanted, love of the sex is inverted and becomes chaste love of the sex...	98
100	11. That the male and female were created to be the very form of the marriage of good and truth ... ..	99
101-102	12. That two married partners are that form in their inmosts, and hence, as the interiors of their mind are opened, in all the parts that follow therefrom	99
MEMORABLE RELATIONS
103-114	Concerning the Origin of conjugal love, and concerning its virtue or potency, discussed by the wise called together from the European world ... ..	100
115	Concerning a paper let down from heaven to the earth, on which was written "The Marriage of Good and Truth" ...	107

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
116-131	The Marriage of the Lord and the Church and its Correspondence ... ..	110-19
117	1. That in the Word, the Lord is called Bridegroom and Husband, and the Church Bride and Wife; and that the conjunction of the Lord with the Church, and the reciprocal conjunction of the Church with the Lord, is called Marriage ... ..	111
118-119	2. Also that the Lord is called Father, and the Church Mother ... ..	112
120	3. That the offspring from the Lord as Husband and Father and the Church as Wife and Mother are all spiritual, and in the spiritual sense of the Word are meant by sons and daughters, brothers and sisters, sons-in-law and daughters-in-law, and by other names belonging to generation ... ..	113
121	4. That the spiritual offspring which are born from the marriage of the Lord with the Church are truths, from which are understanding , perception , and all thought ; and goods , from which are love , charity , and every affection ... ..	113
122-124	5. That from the marriage of good and truth which proceeds and flows in from the Lord, man receives truth, and to this the Lord conjoins good ; and that thus the Church is formed by the Lord with man ... ..	114
125	6. That the husband does not represent the Lord, and the wife the Church, because both together, the husband and his wife, make the Church ... ..	115
126	7. Therefore, that in the marriages of angels in the heavens and of men on earth, there is not a correspondence of the husband with the Lord and of the wife with the Church ... ..	115
127	8. But that there is a correspondence with conjugal love, insemination, proliferation, the love of infants, and similar things which are in marriages and from them ... ..	116

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
128	9. That the Word is the medium of conjunction because it is from the Lord and thus is the Lord ... ..	116
129	10. That the Church is from the Lord and is with those who approach Him and live according to His commandments ... ..	117
130	11. That conjugal love is according to the state of the Church, because according to the state of wisdom with man ... ..	118
131	12. And because the Church is from the Lord, that conjugal love also is from Him ... ..	119
	MEMORABLE RELATIONS
132-136	What the Image of God is, and the likeness of God, and what the Tree of Life and the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil ... ..	120
137	Two angels from the third heaven concerning conjugal love there ... ..	127
138-156	The Chaste and the Non-Chaste ... ..	130-40
139-140	1. That the chaste and the non-chaste are predicated only of marriages and of such things as belong to marriages ... ..	131
141	2. That the chaste is predicated only of monogamous marriages, or those of one man with one wife ... ..	132
142	3. That the Christian conjugal alone is chaste ... ..	132
143	4. That love truly conjugal is chastity itself ... ..	132
144	5. That all the delights of love truly conjugal, even the ultimate, are chaste ... ..	133
145-146	6. That with those who are made spiritual by the Lord, conjugal love is more and more purified and made chaste ... ..	133
147-149	7. That the chastity [of marriage] comes into existence by the total renunciation of whoredoms from religion...	134
150	8. That chastity cannot be predicated of infants; nor of boys and girls; nor of youths and virgins before they feel the love of the sex in themselves ...	136

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
151	9. That chastity cannot be predicated of eunuchs born such, nor of eunuchs made such ... ..	136
152	10. That chastity cannot be predicated of those who do not believe adulteries to be evils of religion, and still less of those who do not believe adulteries to be hurtful to society ... ..	137
153	11. That chastity cannot be predicated of those who abstain from adulteries solely on account of various external reasons ... ..	137
154	12. That chastity cannot be predicated of those who believe marriages to be unchaste ... ..	138
155	13. That chastity cannot be predicated of those who have renounced marriages by vowing perpetual celibacy, unless there be and remain in them the love of a life truly conjugal ... ..	138
156	14. That the state of marriage is to be preferred to the state of celibacy ...	139
MEMORABLE RELATIONS
156a-156d	Concerning the Ancients in Greece who inquired of new-comers, "What news from the earth"; and also concerning men found in the woods ... ..	140
156e	Concerning a golden shower and a hall where wives spoke of various things concerning conjugal love ... ..	144
156f-181 The Conjunction of Souls and Minds by Marriage, which is meant by the Lord's Words, They are no longer Two, but One Flesh ... ..
157	1. That from creation there has been implanted in each sex, a faculty and inclination, giving them the ability and the desire to be conjoined as into a one ... ..	149
158	2. That conjugal love conjoins two souls and thence minds into a one ...	150
159	3. That the wife's will conjoins itself with the man's understanding, and hence the man's understanding with the wife's will ... ..	150

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
160	4. That the inclination to unite the man to herself is constant and perpetual with the wife, but inconstant and alternating with the man ... ..	151
161	5. That conjunction is inspired into the man by the wife according to her love, and is received by the man according to his wisdom ... ..	151
162	6. That from the first days of marriage this conjunction is effected successively, and with those who are in love truly conjugal, more and more deeply to eternity ... ..	152
163-165	7. That the conjunction of the wife with the rational wisdom of the husband is effected from within, but with his moral wisdom from without... ..	153
166	8. That with this conjunction as an end, the wife is given a perception of the affections of the husband, and also the highest prudence in moderating them ... ..	154
167	9. That for causes which are necessities, wives store up this perception with themselves and conceal it from their husbands, in order that conjugal love, friendship, and confidence, and thus the blessedness of cohabitation, and the happiness of life, may be firmly established ... ..	154
168	10. That this perception is the wife's wisdom, and that it is not possible with the man; nor is the man's rational wisdom possible with the wife ... ..	155
169	11. That from her love, the wife is continually thinking about the inclination of the man to herself with the purpose of conjoining him to herself ... ..	155
170	12. That the wife conjoins herself to the man by applications to the desires of his will ... ..	156
171	13. That the wife is conjoined to her husband by the sphere of her life going forth from her love ... ..	156

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
172	14. That the wife is conjoined to the husband by the appropriation of the forces of his manhood, but that this takes place according to their mutual spiritual love ... ..	157
173	15. That the wife thus receives into herself the image of her husband, and hence perceives, sees, and feels his affections ... ..	157
174-175	16. That there are offices proper to the man, and offices proper to the wife; and that the wife cannot enter into the offices proper to the man, nor the man into the offices proper to the wife, and rightly perform them ... ..	158
176	17. That according as there is mutual aid, these offices also conjoin the two into one, and at the same time make one home ... ..	159
177	18. That according to the above-mentioned conjunctions, married partners become more and more one man ... ..	160
178	19. That those who are in love truly conjugal feel themselves to be a united man and as one flesh... ..	160
179	20. That, regarded in itself, love truly conjugal is a union of souls, a conjunction of minds, and an effort to conjunction in breasts and thence in the body ... ..	161
180	21. That the states of this love are innocence, peace, tranquillity, inmost friendship, full confidence, mutual desire of animus and heart to do to the other every good; and from all these, blessedness, happiness, delight, pleasure; and from the eternal fruition of these, heavenly felicity ... ..	161
181	22. That these things are by no means possible except in the marriage of one man with one wife ... ..	162
MEMORABLE RELATIONS
182	Discourse by ancient Sophi in Greece respecting the life of men after death ...	162

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
183	Concerning the nuptial garden called Adramandoni, where was a discourse concerning the influx of conjugal love...	166
184-206	The Change of the State of Life with Men and with Women through Marriage	170-82
185	1. That the state of man's life from infancy to the end of life, and afterwards to eternity, is continually changing ... ..	171
186	2. So likewise the internal form which is that of his spirit ... ..	172
187	3. That these changes are of one kind with men, and of another kind with women, because, by creation, men are forms of science, intelligence, and wisdom, and women, forms of the love of these with men ... ..	172
188-189	4. That with men there is elevation of the mind into superior light, and with women elevation of the mind into superior heat; and that woman feels the delights of her heat in the light of the man ... ..	173
190	5. That the states of life with men and women are of one kind before marriage and of another after marriage	174
191	6. That with married partners, the states of life after marriage are changed and follow one after the other according to the conjunctions of their minds by conjugal love ...	175
192	7. That marriages also induce new forms upon the souls and minds ...	175
193	8. That the woman is formed into the man's wife actually according to the description in the Book of Creation	176
194	9. That this formation is effected by the wife in secret ways; and that this is what is meant by the woman being created while the man slept... ..	177
195	10. That this formation by the wife is effected by the conjunction of her will with the internal will of the man	178

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
196	11. To the end that the will of both may become one will, and thus the two, one man ... ..	178
197	12. That this formation is effected by the appropriation of the affections of the husband ... ..	178
198	13. That this formation is effected by the wife by the reception of the propagations of the soul of the husband, with the delight arising from this, that she wills to be the love of her husband's wisdom ... ..	178
199	14. That thus a virgin is formed into a wife, and a young man into a husband ... ..	179
200	15. That in the marriage of one man with one wife between whom there is love truly conjugal, the wife becomes more and more a wife, and the husband more and more a husband ...	180
201	16. That thus their forms also are successively perfected from within, and ennobled ... ..	180
202-205	17. That offspring born of two who are in love truly conjugal derive from their parents the conjugal of good and truth, from which they have an inclination and faculty, if a son, for perceiving the things which are of wisdom, and if a daughter, for loving the things which wisdom teaches ...	180
206	18. That this comes to pass because the soul of the offspring is from the father, and its clothing from the mother ...	182
MEMORABLE RELATIONS
207	A discourse by ancient Sophi in Greece concerning functions in heaven ... ..	182
208	Concerning the golden shower and the hall where wives again spoke on conjugal love... ..	186
209-230	Universals concerning Marriages ...	189-201
210	1. That the sense proper to conjugal love is the sense of touch ... ..	190
211-212	2. That with those who are in love truly conjugal, the faculty of becoming

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
	wise increases, but with those who are not in conjugal love it decreases ...	191
213	3. That with those who are in love truly conjugal, the happiness of cohabitation increases, but with those who are not in conjugal love it decreases ... ..	192
214	4. That with those who are in love truly conjugal, conjunction of minds and therewith friendship increases, but with those who are not in conjugal love, the latter together with the former decreases ... ..	192
215	5. That those who are in love truly conjugal continually will to be one man, but those who are not in conjugal love will to be two ...	193
216	6. That those who are in love truly conjugal look to what is eternal in marriage, not so those who are not in conjugal love ... ..	193
216a	7. That conjugal love resides with chaste wives, yet their love depends on their husbands ... ..	194
217	8. That wives love the bonds of marriage, if only the men love those bonds	194
218	9. That in itself the intelligence of women is modest, elegant, pacific, yielding, gentle, tender; and the intelligence of men is in itself grave, harsh, hard, spirited, fond of licence	195
219	10. That wives are in no excitation as men are, but that with them there is a state of preparation for reception...	195
220	11. That men have abundance according to their love of propagating the truths of their wisdom, and according to their love of performing uses ...	196
221	12. That determinations are at the good pleasure of the husband ... ..	197
222	13. That there is a conjugal sphere which inflows from the Lord through heaven into every single thing of the universe even to its ultimates ...	197

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
223	14. That this sphere is received by the female sex and through this sex is transferred into the male sex ...	198
224	15. That where there is love truly conjugal, this sphere is received by the wife and by the husband solely through the wife ... ..	198
225	16. That where there is no conjugal love, this sphere is indeed received by the wife but not by the husband through her ... ..	199
226	17. That conjugal love may exist with one of the partners and not at the same time with the other ... ..	199
227	18. That with married partners there are various similitudes and various dissimilitudes, both internal and external	200
228	19. That various similitudes can be conjoined, but not with dissimilitudes ...	200
229	20. That for those who desire love truly conjugal, the Lord provides similitudes; and if not given on earth, He provides them in the heavens ...	200
230	21. That according to the defect and loss of conjugal love, man approaches to the nature of a beast... ..	201
MEMORABLE RELATIONS
231	Concerning judges of friendship, of whom it was cried out, "Oh, how just!" ...	201
232	Concerning reasoners, of whom it was cried out, "Oh, how learned!" ... ..	204
233	Concerning confirmers, of whom it was cried out, "Oh, how wise!" ... ..	206
234-260	The Causes of Colds, Separations, and Divorces in Marriages ... ..	209-23
235	1. That there is spiritual heat and spiritual cold; and that spiritual heat is love and spiritual cold the deprivation thereof ... ..	210
236	2. That in marriages, spiritual cold is disunion of souls and disjunction of minds, whence comes indifference, discord, contempt, loathing, aversion; from which, with many, comes finally

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
	separation from bed, chamber, and house ... ..	211
237	3. That the causes of cold in their successions are many, some internal, some external, and some accidental	211
238-239	4. That the internal causes of cold are from religion ... ..	211
240	5. That of the internal causes of cold, the First is rejection of religion by both partners ... ..	213
241	6. That of the internal causes of cold, the Second is that the one has religion and the other has not ... ..	213
242	7. That of the internal causes of cold, the Third is that the one has one religion and the other another ...	214
243	8. That of the internal causes [of cold], the Fourth is imbued falsity of religion ... ..	214
244-245	9. That the causes above named are causes of internal cold, but with many, not at the same time of external cold ... ..	215
246	10. That the external causes of cold are also many, and of these the First is dissimilitude in animus and manners	216
247	11. That of the external causes of cold, the Second is the believing that conjugal love is one with scortatory love except that by law, the latter is illicit and the former is not ... ..	216
248	12. That of the external causes of cold, the Third is rivalry for supremacy between the partners... ..	217
249	13. That of the external causes of cold, the Fourth is lack of determination to any study or business, whence comes wandering lust ... ..	217
250	14. That of the external causes of cold, the Fifth is inequality of station and condition in externals ... ..	218
251	15. That there are also several causes of separation ... ..	219
252	16. That the First cause of legitimate separation is a blemish of the mind...	219

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
253	17. That the Second cause of legitimate separation is a blemish of the body...	219
254	18. That the Third cause of legitimate separation is impotence before marriage ... ..	220
255	19. That adultery is the cause of divorce	220
256	20. That there are also many accidental causes of cold; and of these the First is commonness from being continually allowed ... ..	221
257	21. That of the accidental causes of cold, the Second is, that because of the covenant and the law, living with the married partner seems forced and not free ... ..	221
258	22. That of the accidental causes of cold, the Third is affirmation by the wife and talk by her about love ... ..	222
259	23. That of the accidental causes of cold, the Fourth is the man's thought of the wife day and night, that she is desirous; and on the other hand, the wife's thought of the man, that he is not willing ... ..	222
260	24. That when cold is in the mind, it is also in the body; and that according to the increase of the former cold, the externals of the body are closed ...	223
MEMORABLE RELATIONS
261-266	Concerning those who are in the love of ruling from the love of self ... ..	223
267-268	Concerning those who are in the love of possessing all things of the world ...	229
269	Concerning Lucifer ... ..	232
270	Concerning conjugal cold ... ..	234
271-292	The Causes of Apparent Love, Friendship, and Favour in Marriages ... ..	237-50
272	1. That in the natural world almost all can be conjoined as to external affections, but not as to internal affections if these are dissident and come to view ... ..	238
273	2. That in the spiritual world all are conjoined according to internal affections, but not according to

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
	external unless these act as one with the internal ... ..	239
274	3. That it is external affections according to which matrimones are commonly contracted in the world ... ..	240
275	4. But that if internal affections which conjoin minds are not within them, matrimones are dissolved in the home ... ..	240
276	5. That nevertheless, in the world, matrimones are to continue to the end of life ... ..	240
277	6. That in matrimones wherein internal affections do not conjoin, there are external affections which simulate the internal and consociate ... ..	241
278	7. That thence is apparent love between the partners, or apparent friendship and favour ... ..	242
279	8. That these appearances are conjugal simulations which are praiseworthy because useful and necessary ... ..	242
280	9. That with a spiritual man conjoined to a natural, these conjugal simulations savour of justice and judgment	242
281	10. That with natural men these conjugal simulations savour of prudence for the sake of various causes ... ..	243
282	11. That they are for the sake of amendments and for the sake of accommodations ... ..	243
283	12. That they are for the sake of preserving order in domestic affairs, and for the sake of mutual aid ... ..	244
284	13. That they are for the sake of the care of the infants and of concordance in relation to the children ... ..	245
285	14. That they are for the sake of peace in the home ... ..	245
286	15. That they are for the sake of reputation outside the home ... ..	246
287	16. That they are for the sake of various favours expected from the partner or from the partner's kindred; thus because of the fear of losing them ... ..	246

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
288	17. That they are for the sake of the excusing of blemishes and the avoiding of ill-repute therefrom ... ..	246
289	18. That they are for the sake of reconciliations ... ..	247
290	19. That when the partners grow old, if favour does not cease with the wife when ability ceases with the man, there may arise a friendship emulous of conjugal friendship ... ..	247
291	20. That there are various kinds of apparent love and friendship between married partners, of whom the one is subjugated and hence is subject to the other ... ..	247
292	21. That in the world there are infernal marriages between partners who inwardly are bitter enemies and outwardly like close friends ... ..	248
MEMORABLE RELATIONS
293	Concerning seven wives, sitting in a garden of roses, who spoke various things concerning conjugal love ... ..	250
294	A discourse by the same wives concerning the prudence of women ... ..	252
295-314	Betrothals and Weddings ... ..	256-68
296	1. That choice belongs to the man and not to the woman ... ..	257
297	2. That it behoves the man to court the woman and ask her respecting marriage with him, and not the reverse...	258
298-299	3. That before she consents, it behoves the woman to consult her parents or those in the place of parents, and then to deliberate with herself ... ..	258
300	4. That after the declaration of consent, pledges are to be given ... ..	259
301	5. That consent is to be strengthened and confirmed by a solemn betrothal	260
302	6. That by betrothal each is prepared for conjugal love ... ..	260
303	7. That by betrothal the mind of the one is conjoined to the mind of the other in order that a marriage of the spirit may take place before that of the body	261

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
304	8. That this is the case with those who think of marriages chastely; not so with those who think of them unchastely ... ..	261
305	9. That during the time of betrothal it is not lawful to be conjoined corporeally	261
306	10. That when the time of betrothal is completed, the wedding ought to take place ... ..	262
307	11. That before the celebration of the wedding, a conjugal covenant is to be entered into in the presence of witnesses ... ..	263
308	12. That the marriage is to be consecrated by a priest ... ..	263
309	13. That the wedding is to be celebrated with festivity ... ..	264
310	14. That after the wedding, the marriage of the spirit becomes also a marriage of the body and thus complete ...	264
311	15. That this is the order of conjugal love, with its modes, from its first heat to its first torch ... ..	265
312	16. That conjugal love, precipitated without order and its modes, burns out the marrows and is consumed ...	266
313	17. That the states of the mind of each, proceeding in successive order, inflow into the state of marriage, yet in one way with the spiritual and in another with the natural ... ..	266
314	18. Because there is successive order and simultaneous order, and the latter is from the former and according to it	267
	MEMORABLE RELATIONS
315	A discussion on what the soul is and what its nature ... ..	268
316	Concerning a garden where was discourse concerning Divine Providence in relation to marriages ... ..	272
317-325	Repeated Marriages ... ..	276-82
318	1. That after the death of the partner, again to contract matrimony depends on the preceding conjugal love ...	276

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
319	2. That after the death of the partner, again to contract matrimony depends also on the state of marriage in which they had lived ... ..	277
320	3. That in the case of those with whom there had been no love truly conjugal, there is nothing to prevent and hinder them from again contracting matrimony ... ..	278
321	4. That those who have lived together in love truly conjugal do not wish to marry again, unless for reasons apart from conjugal love ... ..	279
322	5. That the state of marriage of a young man with a virgin is different from that of a young man with a widow...	280
323	6. Also that the state of marriage of a widower with a virgin is different from that of a widower with a widow	280
324	7. That the varieties and diversities of these marriages, with respect to love and its attributes, exceed all number	281
325	8. That the state of a widow is more grievous than that of a widower ...	281
MEMORABLE RELATIONS
326-329	Concerning the distinction between the spiritual and the natural ... ..	282
330-331	Discussions as to whether a woman who loves herself for her beauty can love her husband; also whether a man who loves himself for his intelligence can love his wife ... ..	287
332-352	Polygamy ... ..	290-305
333-334	1. That except with one wife there can be no love truly conjugal, consequently, no truly conjugal friendship, confidence, potency, and no such conjunction of minds that the two may be one flesh ... ..	292
335	2. Thus, that except with one wife, there can be no celestial blessings, spiritual happiness, and natural delights such as have been provided from the beginning for those who are in love truly conjugal ... ..	293

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
336	3. That none of these can be given except by the Lord alone; and that they are given to no others save those who approach Him alone and at the same time live according to His precepts ... ..	294
337	4. Consequently, that love truly conjugal is not possible except with those who are of the Christian Church ...	294
338	5. That hence it is, that for a Christian it is not lawful to marry more than one wife ... ..	295
339	6. That a Christian, if he marries more wives than one, commits not only natural adultery but also spiritual adultery ... ..	295
340	7. That for the Israelitish nation it was permitted to marry more wives than one because with that nation there was no Christian Church, and hence no possibility of love truly conjugal	296
341	8. That it is permitted Mohammedans at this day to marry many wives because they do not acknowledge the Lord Jesus Christ to be one with Jehovah the Father, and thus as the God of heaven and earth, and hence cannot receive love truly conjugal...	298
342-344	9. That the Mohammedan heaven is outside the Christian heaven, and is divided into two heavens, a lower and a higher; and that no others are elevated into their higher heaven save those who renounce concubines, live with one wife, and acknowledge our Lord, to whom is given dominion over heaven and earth, as equal with God the Father ... ..	299
345	10. That polygamy is lasciviousness ...	301
346	11. That with polygamists conjugal chastity, purity, and holiness are not possible ... ..	302
347	12. That a polygamist, so long as he remains a polygamist, cannot become spiritual ... ..	302

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
348	13. That polygamy is not a sin with those with whom it exists from religion ...	302
349-350	14. That polygamy is not a sin with those who are in ignorance of the Lord ...	303
351	15. That of these, those are saved, although polygamists, who acknowledge God and from religion live according to the civil laws of justice	304
352	16. But that none of the latter and the former can be consociated with angels in the Christian heavens ... ..	304
MEMORABLE RELATIONS
353-354	Concerning self-prudence ... ..	305
355-356	Concerning the perpetual ability in heaven, of loving the wife ... ..	307
357-379	Jealousy ... ..	310-21
358	1. That zeal, regarded in itself, is as the fire of love blazing ... ..	311
359-361	2. That the burning or flame of the love, being its zeal, is a spiritual burning or flame arising from a molestation of the love, and an attack upon it ...	312
362	3. That a man's zeal is such as his love is, thus of one kind with him whose love is good, and of another with him whose love is evil ... ..	313
363-364	4. That in outer manifestation, the zeal of a good love and the zeal of an evil love are alike, but inwardly they are wholly unlike ... ..	313
365-366	5. That inwardly in the zeal of a good love lie love and friendship, but inwardly in the zeal of an evil love lie hatred and revenge ... ..	314
367	6. That the zeal of conjugal love is called jealousy ... ..	315
368	7. That jealousy is as a fire blazing out against those who molest the love with the partner; and that it is as a dreadful fear for the loss of that love	315
369-370	8. That jealousy is spiritual with monogamists, and natural with polygamists	316
371-372	9. That with married partners who tenderly love each other, jealousy is a

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
	just grief from sound reason, lest their conjugal love be divided and thus perish ... ..	317
373-375	10. That with married partners who do not love each other, jealousy is due to many causes, and with some to various kinds of mental sickness ...	318
376	11. That with some there is no jealousy, and this also from various causes ...	319
377	12. That there is jealousy also for mistresses, but it is not of the same nature as for wives ... ..	320
378	13. That there is jealousy also with beasts and birds ... ..	320
379	14. That jealousy with men and husbands is different from jealousy with women and wives ... ..	321
	MEMORABLE RELATIONS
380	A discussion as to whether nature is of life, or life of nature; also concerning the centre and expanse of life and of nature	321
381-384	Orators on the origin of the beauty of the female sex ... ..	326
385-414	The Conjunction of Conjugal Love with the Love of Infants ... ..	329-45
386	1. That from the Lord proceed two universal spheres for the preservation of the universe in the state created, of which the one is the sphere of procreating, and the other the sphere of protecting the things procreated ...	330
387	2. That these two universal spheres make one with the sphere of conjugal love and the sphere of the love of infants... ..	331
388-390	3. That these two spheres flow, universally and singly, into all things of heaven and all things of the world, from the first of them to the last ...	331
391	4. That the sphere of the love of infants is a sphere of protection and support of those who cannot protect and support themselves ... ..	333
392	5. That this sphere affects both the evil and the good, and disposes every one

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
	to love, protect, and support his offspring from his own love ... ..	333
393	6. That this sphere affects the female sex, thus mothers, principally, and the male sex, or fathers, from them	334
394	7. That this sphere is also a sphere of innocence and peace from the Lord	334
395	8. That a sphere of innocence flows into infants, and through them into their parents, and affects them ... ..	335
396-397	9. That it flows also into the souls of parents and conjoins itself with the same sphere with infants; and that it is insinuated more especially by touch	335
398	10. That in the degree that innocence recedes with infants, affection and conjunction also abate, and this successively even to separation ...	337
399	11. That with parents there is a rational state of innocence and peace in respect to their infants, in that the latter know nothing and can do nothing from themselves but from others, especially their father and mother; and that this state also successively recedes as they acquire knowledge and are able to act from themselves and not from their parents	337
400-401	12. That the sphere of the love of pro-creating progresses in order, from an end through causes into effects, and makes periods whereby creation is preserved in the state foreseen and provided ... ..	338
402	13. That the love of infants descends and does not ascend ... ..	339
403	14. That wives have one state of love before conception, and another after it up to the birth ... ..	339
404	15. That with parents, conjugal love is conjoined with the love of infants by spiritual causes and by natural causes therefrom ... ..	340
405-407	16. That the love of infants and children is of one kind with spiritual married partners, and of another with natural	340

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
408.	17. That with the spiritual this love is from within or a priori , but with the natural, from without or a posteriori	342
409	18. That thence it is, that this love is with married partners who love each other, and also with married partners who have no love for each other ...	342
410	19. That the love of infants remains after death, especially with women ...	342
411-412	20. That under the Lord's auspices, infants are educated by them and grow in stature and intelligence as in the world ... ..	343
413-414	21. That it is there provided by the Lord that the innocence of infancy with infants become the innocence of wisdom and that thus infants become angels ... ..	344
MEMORABLE RELATION
415-422	That all things which exist and are made in the natural world are from the Lord through the spiritual world ... ..	345

PART SECOND

423-443	The Opposition of Scortatory Love and Conjugal Love ... ..	355-67
424	1. That the nature of scortatory love cannot be known unless the nature of conjugal love is known ... ..	356
425	2. That scortatory love is the opposite to conjugal love ... ..	357
426	3. That scortatory love is the opposite to conjugal love as the natural man regarded in himself is the opposite to the spiritual man ... ..	358
427-428	4. That scortatory love is the opposite to conjugal love as the connubial connection of evil and falsity is the opposite to the marriage of good and truth ... ..	358
429	5. That hence scortatory love is the opposite to conjugal love as hell is the opposite to heaven ... ..	359

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
430	6. That the uncleanness of hell is from scortatory love, and the cleanness of heaven from conjugal love... ..	360
431	7. That it is the same with uncleanness in the Church, and with cleanness there ... ..	361
432-433	8. That scortatory love makes man to be more and more not a man and not a male; and that conjugal love makes man to be more and more a man and a male... ..	361
434	9. That there is a sphere of scortatory love and a sphere of conjugal love...	363
435	10. That the sphere of scortatory love ascends from hell, and that the sphere of conjugal love descends from heaven... ..	364
436	11. That these two spheres meet each other in both worlds but do not join	364
437	12. That between these two spheres is an equilibrium, and that man is in this equilibrium ... ..	364
438	13. That man is able to turn himself to whichever sphere he pleases, but so far as he turns to the one, he turns away from the other ... ..	365
439	14. That each sphere carries with it delights ... ..	365
440-441	15. That the delights of scortatory love commence from the flesh and are delights of the flesh even in the spirit; but that the delights of conjugal love commence in the spirit and are delights of the spirit even in the flesh	366
442-443	16. That the enjoyments of scortatory love are the pleasures of insanity, but the enjoyments of conjugal love are the delights of wisdom ... ..	367
MEMORABLE RELATION
444	Concerning angels who knew not what whoredom is ... ..	367
444a-460 Fornication ... ..		372-81
445	1. That fornication belongs to love of the sex... ..	373

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
446	2. That love of the sex, from which is fornication, commences when a youth begins to think and act from his own understanding, and his speaking voice begins to become masculine ...	373
447	3. That fornication belongs to the natural man ... ..	374
448-449	4. That fornication is a lust, but not the lust of adultery ... ..	375
450	5. That with some men, love of the sex cannot without harmful results be totally restrained from going forth into fornication ... ..	376
451	6. That therefore, in populous cities brothels are tolerated ... ..	376
452	7. That the lust of fornicating is light so far as it looks to conjugal love and prefers it ... ..	376
453	8. That the lust of fornicating is grievous so far as it looks to adultery... ..	377
454	9. That the lust of fornicating is more grievous as it verges to the cupidity of varieties and the cupidity of defloration ... ..	378
455	10. That the sphere of the lust of fornicating, as it is in its beginning, is mediate between the sphere of scortatory love and the sphere of conjugal love, and makes an equilibrium	378
456	11. That care must be taken that conjugal love be not destroyed by immoderate and inordinate fornications ... ..	379
457-458	12. Because the conjugal of one man with one wife is the precious jewel of human life and the repository of the Christian religion ... ..	379
459	13. That with those who for various reasons cannot yet enter into marriage, and because of salacity cannot restrain their lusts, this conjugal can be preserved if the roaming love of the sex become restricted to one mistress ... ..	380
460	14. That pellicacy is preferable to roaming lust provided it be not contracted

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
	with many, nor with a virgin or undeflowered woman, nor with a married woman; and provided it be kept separate from conjugal love ...	381
	MEMORABLE RELATION
461	Concerning delight, that it is the universal of heaven and hell ... ..	382
462-476	Concubinage ... ..	387-95
463	1. That there are two kinds of concubinage, which greatly differ from each other; one conjointly with the wife, the other in separation from the wife ... ..	388
464	2. That for Christians, concubinage conjointly with the wife is altogether unlawful and detestable ... ..	389
465	3. That it is polygamy, which is banned from the Christian world, and should be banned ... ..	389
466	4. That it is whoredom, and by it the conjugal, which is the precious treasure of Christian life, is destroyed	390
467	5. That concubinage in separation from the wife, when engaged in from causes legitimate, just, and truly weighty, is not unlawful ... ..	391
468-469	6. That the legitimate causes of this concubinage are legitimate causes of divorce, the wife being nevertheless retained in the home... ..	391
470	7. That the just causes of this concubinage are just causes of separation from the bed ... ..	392
471	8. That the weighty causes of this concubinage are real and unreal ... ..	393
472-473	9. That weighty causes are real when based on what is just... ..	393
474	10. That weighty causes are unreal when not based on what is just, even though on an appearance thereof ... ..	394
475	11. That those who are in this concubinage from causes legitimate, just, and really weighty, may at the same time be in conjugal love ... ..	394

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
476	12. That while this concubinage continues, actual conjunction with the wife is not lawful ... ..	395
	MEMORABLE RELATION
477	Concerning an adulterer taken up into heaven, that he there saw opposites ...	395
478-499	Adulteries and their Kinds and Degrees	399-415
479	1. That there are three kinds of adulteries, simple, double, and triple ...	401
480-481	2. That simple adultery is that of an unmarried man with the wife of another, or of an unmarried woman with the husband of another ...	401
482-483	3. That double adultery is that of a husband with the wife of another, or the reverse ... ..	403
484	4. That triple adultery is with blood relations ... ..	405
485	5. That there are four degrees of adulteries, and that predications, pronouncements of guilt, and after death, imputations are made according to these degrees ... ..	405
486	6. That adulteries of the first degree are adulteries from ignorance, which are committed by those who cannot or as yet do not consult the understanding and thence inhibit them ... ..	406
487	7. That adulteries committed by these are mild ... ..	406
488	8. That adulteries of the second degree are adulteries from lust, which are committed by those who are indeed able to consult the understanding, yet, on account of contingent causes, are not able at the time ... ..	407
489	9. That adulteries committed by these are imputable according as the understanding afterwards does or does not favour them ... ..	408
490	10. That adulteries of the third degree are adulteries from reason, which are committed by those who by their understanding confirm them as not being evils of sin ... ..	408

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
491	11. That adulteries committed by these are grievous, and are imputed according to the confirmations ...	409
492	12. That adulteries of the fourth degree are adulteries from the will, which are committed by those who make them allowable and pleasing and not of sufficient importance to merit consulting the understanding in respect to them ... ..	410
493	13. That adulteries committed by these are grievous in the highest degree, and are imputed to them as evils of purpose, and inseated within them as guilt ... ..	411
494	14. That adulteries of the third and fourth degree, whether committed in act or not, are evils of sin according to the measure and quality of the understanding and will within them	411
495-496	15. That adulteries from purpose of the will, and adulteries from confirmation of the understanding, render men natural, sensual, and corporeal ...	412
497	16. That they do this to such an extent that at last the adulterers cast off all things of the church and religion ...	413
498	17. That nevertheless, like others, they possess human rationality ...	414
499	18. But that they use this rationality when in externals, and abuse it when in their internals ... ..	415
	MEMORABLE RELATION
500	Concerning three priests whom adulterers accused	415
501-505	The Lust of Defloration ... ..	419-22
502	1. The state of a virgin or undeflowered woman before marriage and after marriage ... ..	419
503	2. That virginity is the crown of chastity and the token of conjugal love ...	420
504	3. That defloration without the end of marriage is the shameful deed of a robber ... ..	420

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOS.		PAGES
505	4. That after death the lot of those who have confirmed themselves in the lust of defloration as not being an evil of sin, is grievous ... ..	421
506-510	The Lust of Varieties ... ..	423-25
507	1. That by the lust of varieties is meant the utterly dissolute lust of whoredom	423
508	2. That this lust is a love for the sex and at the same time a loathing ... ..	424
509	3. That this lust utterly annihilates conjugal love with them ... ..	424
510	4. That their lot after death is a miserable one because they have not the inmost of life ... ..	424
511-512	The Lust of Violation ... ..	426-27
513-514	The Lust of Seducing Innocences ... ..	428-29
515-520	The Correspondence of Whoredom with the Violation of Spiritual Marriage ... ..	430-31
	MEMORABLE RELATION
521-522	Concerning adulterers from purpose and from confirmation, that they do not acknowledge anything of heaven and the church ... ..	431
523-531	The Imputation of the Two Loves, Scortatory and Conjugal... ... ..	435-43
524	1. That after death the evil in which one is, is imputed to him; likewise the good ... ..	436
525	2. That the transcription of the good of one man into another is impossible	438
526	3. That if by imputation is meant such transcription, imputation is an idle word ... ..	439
527-529	4. That evil is imputed to every one according to the nature of his will and the nature of his understanding; likewise good ... ..	439
530	5. That scortatory love is imputed to each man in the same way ... ..	441
531	6. That in the same way conjugal love is imputed to each man ... ..	442
	MEMORABLE RELATION
532-535	Concerning new things revealed by the Lord ... ..	443

TABLE OF CONTENTS

APPENDIX

	PAGE
Corrections of Latin Text ... ..	449
Change of Paragraph Numbers... ..	450
Duplicate Passages ... ..	451
Index of Scripture Passages ... ..	452
General Index ... ..	455
Author's Announcement ... ..	484