

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments xi

Introduction i

PART ONE: DEMOCRATIZING THE REVOLUTION, 1800–1826 ii

1 The Fourth of July and Partisan Histories 15

2 Creating the “Father of the Nation” 25

3 Ordinary Soldiers and the Marquis 32

4 Adams, Jefferson, and the Jubilee 42

PART TWO: SECTIONALIZING THE REVOLUTION, 1826–1865 55

5 The Abolitionist Revolution 59

6 Seneca Falls and Mount Vernon 72

7 Creating an Antislavery Revolution 81

8 The Confederate Revolution 88

PART THREE: NATIONALIZING THE REVOLUTION, 1863–1915 97

- 9 Creating the Centennial 103
- 10 Contesting the Centennial 110
- 11 Immigrants and Patriotic Societies 120
- 12 The Liberty Bell 128

PART FOUR: MODERNIZING THE REVOLUTION, 1890–1945 137

- 13 “Founding Fathers” for the Twentieth Century 143
- 14 The Progressive Revolution 156
- 15 Creating Monticello and Colonial Williamsburg 169
- 16 The Depression’s Revolution 180

PART FIVE: AMERICANIZING THE REVOLUTION, 1945–1970 191

- 17 The Founders’ Papers 195
- 18 Visiting the Revolution 203
- 19 The Cold War’s Revolution 214
- 20 The Sixties’ Revolution 225

PART SIX: CONTESTING THE REVOLUTION, 1970–2001 235

- 21 Creating the Bicentennial 239
- 22 The Alternative Bicentennial 251
- 23 The Afterlife of the Bicentennial 266
- 24 The Aftermath of the Cold War 280

Epilogue: The Revolution in the New Millennium 295

Notes 305

Index 341