

CONTENTS

Preface	x
Preface to the English Edition	x
Abbreviations	xi
Bibliography	xv

INTRODUCTION

1. The Title and Plan of the Book	1
2. The Work of the Deuteronomic History Writer	3
3. Pre-Deuteronomic Elements and the Historical Problems of the Conquest	7
4. The Person of Joshua in the Context of the Conquest	14
5. The Text and its Translations	18
6. The Book of Joshua in the Context of the Biblical Message	19

COMMENTARY

Part One: The Narrative of the Conquest

1	The Introduction	25
	(a) God's address to Joshua (1.1-9)	27
	(b) Joshua's orders to the people (1.10-18)	32
2	The Spies at Jericho	34
3.1-5.1	The Crossing of the Jordan	43
	(a) The preparations for the crossing (3.1-13)	54
	(b) The miracle of the waters (3.14-16a)	60
	(c) The crossing of the river (3.16b-17; 4.10-11, 14-18)	63
	(d) The twelve stones (4.1-9)	64

	(e) The crossing of the groups from the east of the Jordan (4.12-13)	65
	(f) The arrival at Gilgal (4.19-5.1)	66
5.2-9	The Circumcision at Gilgal	68
5.10-12	The Celebration of the Passover at Gilgal	73
5.13-15	The Appearance of the Commander of the Army of Yahweh	76
6	The Conquest of Jericho	79
7.1-8.29	The Episode of Achan and the Conquest of Ai	88
9	The Covenant with the Gibeonites	106
10	The Battle of Gibeon and the Expeditions to the South	116
	(a) The battle of Gibeon (10.1-15)	121
	(b) The five kings in the cave at Makkedah (10.16-27)	127
	(c) The campaign in the southern hill country (10.28-42)	129
11.1-15	The Campaigns in the North	132
11.16-12.24	General Epilogue and List of Conquered Kings	137

Part Two: The Division of the Promised Land

13	Introduction to the Division: The Situation West of the Jordan	147
	(a) First introduction (13.1-7)	148
	(b) Second introduction (13.8-14)	153
	(c) The tribes of Reuben and Gad and their territories (13.15-28)	154
	(d) Territories belonging to the half of Manasseh east of the Jordan (13.29-33)	158
14-17	The Division of Territory carried out at Gilgal	159
	(a) Introduction to the division of territory (14.1-5)	169
	(b) The territory of Caleb (14.6-15)	170
	(c) The territory of Judah: the frontiers (15.1-12)	171
	(d) Judah: the federated territories of Caleb and Othniel (15.13-20)	175
	(e) Judah: cities and districts (15.21-63)	176
	(f) Ephraim (16.1-10)	180
	(g) Manasseh (17.1-18)	181
18-19	A New Distribution of Territory	183

	(a) The territory of Benjamin (18.1-28)	189
	(b) The territory of Simeon (19.1-9)	191
	(c) The territory of Zebulun (19.10-16)	191
	(d) The territory of Issachar (19.17-23)	192
	(e) The territory of Asher (19.24-31)	193
	(f) The territory of Naphthali (19.32-39)	193
	(g) The territory of Dan (19.40-48)	194
	(h) The personal territory of Joshua (19.49-51)	195
20	The Cities of Refuge	196
21	The Levitical Cities	199

Part Three: Appendix

22	The Return of the Tribes East of the Jordan	209
23	The Last Words of Joshua	216
24.1-27; 8.30-35	The Assembly at Shechem	220
	(a) Preamble (24.1-2a)	231
	(b) Confession of faith (24.2b-13)	231
	(c) The invitation to make a choice and the people's reply (24.14-24)	236
	(d) The making of the covenant at Shechem (24.25-27; 8.30-35)	240
24.28-33	The Tombs of Joshua, Joseph and Eleazar	244