

CONTENTS

List of abbreviations	ix
Preface	xi
1 The enquiry's aim and procedure	1
1 The enigma of Isaiah 40—55	1
2 The formative tradition behind Isaiah 40—55	3
3 The relevance of my 'Kingship and the Psalms'	5
2 Outline of the pre-exilic festival and ideal of kingship	8
1 The occasion of the festival	9
2 The king as convener and president	10
3 Thoughts of the festival on the pilgrims' journey	10
4 The pilgrimage is ideally for all nations	11
5 Cleansing and forgiveness	11
6 Yahweh's kingship as an event in the festival	12
7 The diverse forces conquered by Yahweh	13
8 Yahweh's victorious procession into Zion	13
9 Yahweh takes his seat in Zion	16
10 Yahweh's speech as Covenant-Lord	17
11 Yahweh sits as Judge in Zion	17
12 Yahweh regulates the elements	17
13 The festal salvation is world-wide	18
14 Yahweh's renewed royal care for his people	18
15 Zion as mother, wife, and queen	19
16 The renewal and repair of city and Temple	21
17 A new start	21
18 Ideas combined in the festival	22
19 The festal presentation of the Davidic office	24
20 The dramatic nature of the Davidic rites	24
21 An outline of the royal drama	25
22 The Davidic rites distinct but integral within the         celebration of Yahweh's kingship	26
23 Royal passion rites: Near Eastern comparisons	26

Festal drama in Deutero-Isaiah

24	Yahweh glorifies his king	29
25	The king and Yahweh's law	29
26	The king as Yahweh's son and servant	29
27	The king as righteous	30
28	The king and God's spirit	31
29	The king and God's word	31
30	The reassurance of the king	31
31	God's bestowal of life on the king	32
32	The king mediates life	32
33	Priestly and prophetic functions in the king	32
34	The king's work of atonement	33
35	The king's power of prayer	34
36	The prominence of enemies in the royal texts	34
37	The king as witness and proclaimer of Yahweh's triumph	35
38	Complaints of king and people	36
3	Festal and royal matter in Isaiah 40—55, 60—62	38
	40.1—11	38
	40.12—31	42
	41	43
	42	47
	43	51
	44.1—23	53
	44.24—45.8	55
	45.9—25	56
	46	57
	47	58
	48	59
	49	61
	50	67
	51.1—52.12	71
	52.13—53.12	75
	54	85
	55	86
	56—66	89
	60	89
	61	90
	62	91
4	The significance of 'The Servant' for Isaiah 40—55	92
	1 Isaiah 40—55 a unity in the festal pattern	92

2	Is there a Servant distinct from the people Israel?	95
3	The distinctness of Cyrus	98
4	Dramatic speech and the autobiographical theory	98
5	A Davidic hope	100
5	Relation to other prophetic collections	103
1	The Kingship of God and his Davidic Servant in Isaiah 1—39	103
2	Liturgical forms in Isaiah 1—39	104
3	The Isaianic circle and its tradition	106
4	Hopes of Davidic restoration in other collections	108
5	Dramatic prophecy in the festival	110
6	Summary and concluding thoughts	115
	The next step	121
	Bibliography	124
	Select indexes	128
1	Biblical references	128
2	Hebrew words	130
3	Authors	131
4	Topics	132