

CONTENTS

| | | |
|------------------|---|-----------|
| | List of Illustrations | ix |
| | Acknowledgments | xi |
| | A Note on Citations | xv |
| | Introduction | 1 |
| CHAPTER 1 | Roasted in Wrath and Fire: The Ecology of the Passions in Hamlet and Othello | 25 |
| CHAPTER 2 | Love Will Have Heat: Shakespeare's Maidens and the Caloric Economy | 77 |
| CHAPTER 3 | Melancholy Cats, Lugged Bears, and Other Passionate Animals: Reading Shakespeare's Psychological Materialism across the Species Barrier | 135 |
| CHAPTER 4 | Belching Quarrels: Male Passions and the Problem of Individuation | 189 |
| | Epilogue | 243 |
| | Bibliography | 247 |
| | Index | 261 |

ILLUSTRATIONS

| | | |
|------------|-------------------------------------|-----|
| Figure 1. | Emblem of the constant mind (1612) | 3 |
| Figure 2. | Emblem of choler (1612) | 15 |
| Figure 3. | Emblem of phlegm (1612) | 16 |
| Figure 4. | Loving palm trees (1658) | 32 |
| Figure 5. | Choler (1498) | 81 |
| Figure 6. | Sanguine (1498) | 82 |
| Figure 7. | Phlegm (1498) | 83 |
| Figure 8. | Melancholy (1498) | 84 |
| Figure 9. | A melancholic cat (1607) | 143 |
| Figure 10. | Dogs attacking a baited bear (1521) | 147 |