

Contents

---

Foreword	page v
Acknowledgments	vi
PART 1: EXPLORATIONS
Introduction	1
1 The grid as generator: Leslie Martin	6
2 Speculations: Leslie Martin, Lionel March and others	28
3 Elementary models of built forms: Lionel March	55
4 The use of models in planning and the architectural design process: Nicholas Bullock, Peter Dickens and Philip Steadman	97
PART 2: ACTIVITIES, SPACE AND LOCATION
Introduction	109
5 A theoretical model for university planning: Nicholas Bullock, Peter Dickens and Philip Steadman	113
6 The modelling of day to day activities: Nicholas Bullock, Peter Dickens and Philip Steadman	129
PART 3: URBAN SYSTEMS
Introduction	159
7 Models: A discussion: Marcial Echenique	164
8 Development of a model of urban spatial structure: David Crowther and Marcial Echenique	175
9 A structural comparison of three generations of New Towns: Marcial Echenique, David Crowther and Walton Lindsay	219
Afterword	260
Bibliography	265