

CONTENTS

Introduction: Terror and Trauma	1
PART I
Terror, Trauma, Parapraxis	31
1 Terror and Trauma: Siamese Twins of the Political Discourse	33
2 Memory Frames and Witnessing: Burdens of Representation and Holocaust Films	54
3 The Politics and Poetics of Parapraxis: On Some Problems of Representation in the New German Cinema	94
4 Generational Memory: The RAF Afterlife in the New Century	115
PART II
Parapractic Poetics in German Films and Cinema	153
5 Rescued in Vain: Parapraxis and Deferred Action in Konrad Wolf's STARS	155
6 The Persistent Resistance of Alexander Kluge	173
7 Retroactive Causality and the Present: Fassbinder's THE THIRD GENERATION	189

vi Contents

8	Mourning as Mimicry and Masquerade: Herbert Achternbusch's THE LAST HOLE	215
9	Rewind after Replay and Postponement in Harun Farocki's RESPITE	245
PART III
Trauma Theory Reconsidered		261
10	From Mastering the Past to Managing Guilt: Holocaust Memory in the New Century	263
11	Postscript to Trauma Theory: A Parapractic Supplement	306
	Selected Bibliography	324
	Acknowledgments	334
	Index	336