

Contents

Acknowledgements	viii
Chronology	ix
Who's Who	xviii
Glossary	xxii
Maps	xxiv

PART ONE	BACKGROUND	1
1	INTRODUCTION	3
PART TWO	DESCRIPTIVE ANALYSIS	9
2	THE IMPACT OF FRANCE	11
	The 'Jacobin Triennium'	11
	Empire and Land	13
	The Results of French Rule	16
3	THE RESTORATION STATES	19
	The Settlement of Vienna	19
	The Italian Regimes	20
	The French Legacy: Administration and the Army	24
4	RESTORATION: SOCIETY AND ECONOMY	28
	The Politics of Land	28
	Social Change	31
	Trade and Industry	34

5	PLOTS AND PATRIOTS	38
	Secret Societies and Insurrections	38
	Mazzini and 'Young Italy'	39
	'Moderate' Patriotism	42
6	THE REVOLUTIONS OF 1848	49
	A Time for Constitutions	49
	Insurrections and War	53
	The Time of the 'Democrats'	57
	The Revolution that Failed	60
7	THE 'DECADE OF PREPARATION', 1849–59	63
	The New Restoration	63
	Constitutional Piedmont	65
	Cavour and Foreign Policy	70
8	THE UNIFICATION OF ITALY, 1859–61	75
	The War of 1859	75
	Central Italy	76
	Garibaldi and the South	80
	Crossing the Rubicon	83
9	UNITED AT LAST?	85
	More to Come	85
	Piedmontization All Round	87
	The Southern Question	90
	One and Indivisible	91
PART THREE ASSESSMENT		93
10	CONCLUSION	95
PART FOUR DOCUMENTS		101
1	How the Future of Central Italy Was Decided in 1815	102
2	Carlo Cattaneo Celebrates his Native Lombardy	103
3	Mazzini Complains of being Misunderstood	104
4	Mazzini Fails to Impress	105

5	Massimo d'Azeglio, Artist, Novelist and Politician, Recalls the Early 1830s in Milan	106
6	Prince Metternich Foresees Trouble Ahead	108
7	The Grand Duke of Tuscany Decides on War	108
8	The Navy Relies on Patriotism	109
9	Piedmont Makes Overtures to France	109
10	Radetzky's Revenge	110
11	The Milanese 'Democrat' Giorgio Pallavicino Changes his Mind	111
12	The Emperor Napoleon III Plans the Future of Italy	112
13	Napoleon III and Cavour Plan the War of 1859	113
14	King Victor Emanuel Speaks from the Throne	115
15	The Austrians Fall into the Trap	115
16	The British Worry about French Aggrandizement	116
17	Garibaldi the Hero	117
18	Cavour's Reaction to Garibaldi's Sicilian Expedition	119
19	Cavour and the Kingdom of Naples	119
20	The King Meets Garibaldi – and a Northerner Meets the South	121
21	A 'Democrat' Reflects on Cavour	122
22	Garibaldi Fails to take Rome	123
23	The Piedmontese Army Roots Out Brigands	124
	FURTHER READING	127
	REFERENCES	135
	INDEX	139