

Contents

Prologue	3
1. The Gilded Age: A Tale of Yesterday	11
2. The Cosmopolitan Standard of Virtue	30
3. That Shudder of Fascination	49
4. A Certain Sensuous Charm	67
5. How to Read Gertrude Stein	91
6. In Defense of Bad Taste	114
7. What One Is Forced by Nature to Do	138
8. An Entirely New Kind of Negro	165
9. Exotic Material	197
10. Cruel Sophistication	220
11. A Quite Gay, but Empty, Bubble That Dazzles One in Bursting	238
12. Papa Woojums	256
13. Yale May Not Think So, but It'll Be Just Jolly	278
Epilogue: The Attention That I Used to Get	303

Notes 309

Select Bibliography 343

Acknowledgments 353

Index 355