

Table of Contents

| | |
|--|----|
| Acknowledgments | vi |
| A Note on Editions | ix |
| Introduction: On Knowing Nothing SUSAN JOHNSTON and JES BATTIS | 1 |

Language and Narration

| | |
|--|----|
| The Languages of Ice and Fire DAVID J. PETERSON | 15 |
| “Sing for your little life”: Story, Discourse and Character MARC NAPOLITANO | 35 |
| What Maesters Knew: Narrating Knowing BRIAN COWLISHAW | 57 |

Histories

| | |
|---|----|
| “Just songs in the end”: Historical Discourses in Shakespeare and Martin JESSICA WALKER | 71 |
| Dividing Lines: Frederick Jackson Turner’s Western Frontier and George R.R. Martin’s Northern Wall MICHAIL ZONTOS | 92 |

Philosophies

| | |
|---|-----|
| “All men must serve”: Religion and Free Will from the Seven to the Faceless Men RYAN MITCHELL WITTINGSLOW | 113 |
| “Silk ribbons tied around a sword”: Knighthood and the Chivalric Virtues in Westeros CHARLES H. HACKNEY | 132 |

Bodies

- Cursed Womb, Bulging Thighs and Bald Scalp: George R.R.
Martin's Grotesque Queen
KARIN GRESHAM 151
- "A thousand bloodstained hands": The Malleability of Flesh and Identity
BETH KOZINSKY 170
- A Thousand Westerosi Plateaus: Wargs, Wolves and Ways of Being
T.A. LEEDERMAN 189

Intimacies

- Sex and the Citadel: Adapting Same Sex Desire from Martin's
Westeros to HBO's Bedrooms
DAVID C. NEL 205
- Beyond the Pale? Craster and the Pathological Reproduction of Houses in Westeros
D. MARCEL DECOSTE 225

Adaptations

- The Hand of the Artist: Fan Art in the Martinverse
ANDREW HOWE 243
- "A reader lives a thousand lives before he dies": Transmedia Textuality and the Flows of Adaptation
ZOË SHACKLOCK 262
- About the Contributors* 281
- Index* 285