

Contents

List of illustrations	page ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	1
World War I in global history	1
Interwar “crisis” in global history	3
Rewriting interwar Japan	5
Champions of the New Japan	9
1 World War I as anchor	13
First World War from afar	14
Twilight of European hegemony	18
Rise of Japan	20
Rise of the United States	23
American century	25
Wilson in the context of Perry	26
Taishō Renovation	30
Synopsis	35
2 Structural foundations of a New Japan	37
Economic growth	37
Empire	40
Urbanization	42
Party politics	45
Expanding the public sphere	48
Print media	50
The new media	54
Synopsis	58
3 Internationalism	60
Multilateralism and the New Japan	61
Benefits of “conference diplomacy”	64
Paris Peace and the New Japan	67
League of Nations and the New Japan	69
Washington Conference and the New Japan	73
Kellogg–Briand Pact and the New Japan	75
Gold standard and the New Japan	77

	Institute of Pacific Relations and the New Japan	79
	Synopsis	82
4	Democracy	84
	World War I and Japanese democracy	85
	Seiyūkai in the New Japan	90
	Kenseikai in the New Japan	92
	Minseitō in the New Japan	98
	Synopsis	101
5	Disarmament	103
	Armaments and global status in the New Japan	106
	Washington Conference	107
	Paring the Imperial Army	113
	Armed services as pariahs	116
	Synopsis	121
6	World power	124
	Changing standards of empire	125
	Retraction of empire	126
	Civilian character of empire	132
	From continental to global, maritime empire	136
	Synopsis	142
7	Culture of peace	144
	Constructing a culture of peace in interwar Japan	145
	Japanese League of Nations Association and Armistice Day	147
	Chronicling the 1920s through the culture of peace	150
	Taishō icons as symbols of the New Japan of peace	157
	The new media as peace media	161
	Synopsis	165
8	Hamaguchi Osachi and the triumph of the New Japan	167
	Pinnacle of the New Japan	168
	Hamaguchi goes for gold	172
	Hamaguchi goes for London	178
	Peace culture and the pinnacle of the New Japan	183
	Synopsis	188
	Conclusion	191
	World War I in Japan	192
	Constructing a New Japan	193
	The New Japan in global context	194
	Interwar foundations of twentieth-century Japan	195
	Bibliography	197
	Index	210