

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	5
I. Introduction–The Traditions in Farquhar Criticism and the Need for a New Critical Study of Farquhar’s Plays	11
II. Love and a Bottle as a Burlesque of Restoration Comedy	69
III. Lurewell and the Jilting Women of Restoration Comedy	101
IV. Sir Harry Wildair – The ‘Poor Sequel’ to The Trip to the Jubilee	132
V. The Originality of The Inconstant	160
VI. The Twin-Rivals and its Importance to Farquhar’s Development and to English Comedy	184
VII. “The Mystery of ‘The Stage Coach’ ”	209
VIII. The Recruiting Officer as a Climactic Play in the Career of George Farquhar	218
IX. The Beaux’ Stratagem – Fulfillment of a Promise	258
X. Conclusions	295
List of Works Cited	309
Index	314