

Contents

Introduction	1
I. Literature and the Shaping of Experience
1. Reading and Writing Poetry (1958)	9
2. Words and the Imagination (1953)	20
3. Poetry and Our Pattern of Culture (1966)	24
4. Response to Literature (1968)	32
5. The Role of Fantasy (1971)	38
6. Spectator Role and the Beginnings of Writing (1982)	46
II. Language and Intention
7. The Speaker (1967)	71
8. Words and a World (1971)	79
9. Language and Representation (1971)	88
10. Writing to Learn and Learning to Write (1972)	94
11. Talking (1977)	112
12. Notes on a Working Hypothesis about Writing (1979)	123
13. A Reader's Expectations (1979)	130
14. Shaping at the Point of Utterance (1980)	139
III. Perspectives on the Profession
15. A Note on Teaching, Research and "Develop- ment" (1969)	149
16. Take It from—Where? (1973)	153
17. How We Got Here (1973)	169
18. Reflections on the Writing of the Bullock Report (1978)	185
19. Language in the British Primary School (1979)	191
20. English Teaching: Retrospect and Prospect (1982)	201
Selected Bibliography of Other Britton Publications	216