

Contents

14/01/10/2019

957

Preface	7
---------	---

Introduction

What is grammar?	10
Standard English	16
Speech and writing	20
The electronic medium	24
Varieties of English	27
Grammar and other areas	34

Sentences

1 The sentence	36
What is a sentence and how is it used?
2 Types of sentence	40
The distinction between sentence and clause, and the two main types of sentence: major and minor
3 Clause elements	44
An outline of the five elements of clause structure: subject, verb, object, complement, adverbial
4 Clause types	46
An outline of the seven basic types of clause, as seen in statements
5 Statements and questions	48
The relationship between statements and questions; different types of question
6 Directives	52
The relationship between statements and directives (commands); different types of directive
7 Exclamations and echoes	54
The relationship between statements and exclamations; the nature of echo utterances

Clauses

8 The verb element	56
The central role of the verb; transitive and intransitive types
9 The subject element	60
The forms and functions of the subject
10 The object element	62
The forms and functions of the object; direct and indirect object
11 The complement element	64
The forms and functions of the complement: subject and object complements
12 The adverbial element	68
The forms and functions of the adverbial
13 Vocatives	70
The forms, functions, and social uses of the vocative
14 Concord	74
Showing agreement between elements of clause structure

11/02/2019

The verb phrase

- | | |
|---|------------|
| 15 Verb phrase structure | 76 |
| An outline of the verb phrase: main and auxiliary verbs | |
| 16 Regular and irregular verbs | 78 |
| The forms of regular verbs, and their irregular counterparts | |
| 17 Finite and nonfinite | 82 |
| The distinction between finite and nonfinite forms of the verb | |
| 18 Auxiliary verbs | 84 |
| The forms and functions of the primary and modal auxiliaries | |
| 19 Other verbs | 88 |
| Verbs which relate to both main and auxiliary verbs | |
| 20 Multi-word verbs | 90 |
| Verbs which use particles: phrasal and prepositional verbs | |
| 21 The moods of the verb phrase | 92 |
| The distinction between indicative, subjunctive, and imperative moods | |
| 22 Active and passive | 96 |
| The relationship between active and passive voice; the forms and functions of the passive | |
| 23 Verb tenses | 100 |
| The forms and meanings of the present and past tenses | |
| 24 Verb aspects | 104 |
| The forms and meanings of the perfective and progressive aspects | |
| 25 Future time | 108 |
| Ways of expressing future time | |
| 26 Modal meanings | 110 |
| The meanings of the modal auxiliary verbs | |

The noun phrase

- | | |
|--|------------|
| 27 Noun phrase structure | 112 |
| An outline of the noun phrase: head, determiner, premodification, postmodification | |
| 28 Nouns | 116 |
| Identifying nouns; an outline of noun types | |
| 29 Common and proper nouns | 118 |
| The use of proper nouns and proper names | |
| 30 Count and noncount nouns | 120 |
| The difference between countable and uncountable (mass) nouns; abstract and concrete nouns | |
| 31 Variable nouns: singular and plural | 122 |
| The difference between variable and invariable nouns; regular and irregular plurals | |
| 32 Invariable nouns | 126 |
| The types and uses of invariable nouns | |

33 Gender	130
Nouns which are animate or inanimate, personal or nonpersonal, male or female
34 Case	132
Forms and uses of the genitive case, including the apostrophe
35 Determiners	136
Types of determiner; the range of central determiners
36 The articles	138
The uses of the definite, indefinite, and zero articles
37 Predeterminers	140
Forms which precede the determiner in the noun phrase
38 Postdeterminers	142
Forms which follow the determiner in the noun phrase
39 Premodification	144
Forms which appear between the determiner and the noun in the noun phrase; the order of adjectives
40 Postmodification	146
Forms which appear after the noun in the noun phrase
41 Relative clauses	148
The most complex kind of postmodification in the noun phrase; restrictive and nonrestrictive modification
42 Noun phrases in apposition	152
The difference between apposition and coordination; types of apposition

Pronouns

43 Pronouns	154
The forms and functions of pronouns
44 Types of pronoun	156
An outline of personal, reflexive, possessive, and other kinds of definite or indefinite pronoun
45 Personal pronouns	160
The distinction between first, second, and third person pronoun, and their uses
46 Pronoun case	162
The genitive and objective forms of certain pronouns
47 Pronoun gender	164
Male and female reference using pronouns

Adjectives

48 Adjectives	166
Adjective forms and types; attributive and predicative; central and peripheral
49 The functions of the adjective	168
Using adjectives in the clause; adjective phrases

50 Adjectives and other word classes	170
Adjectives related to adverbs, nouns, and participles
51 Adjective comparison	172
Adjective degree: absolute, comparative, superlative; inflectional and periphrastic forms

Adverbs and adverbials

52 Adverbs	174
Types of adverb as premodifiers and adverbials; adverb phrases
53 Adverbial positions	176
Adverbial placement within the clause; split infinitives
54 The meanings of adverbials	178
Adverbials expressing space, time, process, and other meanings
55 Adjuncts	180
Adverbials which modify the verb or sentence; sentence and predication adjuncts
56 Subjuncts	182
Adverbials which play a subordinate role in relation to clauses or clause elements
57 Disjuncts	184
Adverbials which play a superior role in relation to clauses or clause elements
58 Conjuncts	186
Adverbials which connect grammatical units, such as clauses and phrases

Prepositions

59 Prepositions	188
The function of prepositions; prepositional phrases and complements
60 Simple and complex prepositions	190
Prepositions consisting of one word or more than one word
61 Prepositional meanings	192
Prepositions expressing space, time, cause, and other meanings; position of the preposition in a sentence

Reducing and expanding sentences

62 Abbreviating the sentence	196
Ways of shortening a sentence: the use of pro-forms and ellipsis
63 Multiple sentences	200
Ways of expanding a sentence: compound and complex types of sentence
64 Coordination	204
Types of coordination; the range of coordinating conjunctions
65 Subordination	208
Types of subordination; subordinate clauses, and subordinating conjunctions

66	The meanings of conjunctions	212
	The meanings expressed by coordinating and subordinating conjunctions
67	Comment clauses	214
	The forms and functions of comment clauses
68	Comparative clauses	216
	Clauses which express a comparison; the comparative element
69	Reporting speech	218
	The nature of reported speech; the forms and special uses of direct and indirect speech

The information structure of the sentence

70	Sentence information	222
	The distribution of given and new information in a sentence; expressing the theme and providing a focus
71	Varying the information structure	224
	Drawing attention to information structure through fronting, inversion, clefting, and extraposition
72	Existential sentences	226
	Drawing attention to information structure through the use of existential sentences

Above the sentence

73	Sentence connection	228
	Types of connectivity; tracing connections between sentences
74	Grammar in texts	232
	Analysing the grammatical structure of spoken, written, and electronic texts

Related issues

75	Word-formation	238
	How words are constructed through the use of affixes, conversion, and compounding; the distinction between morphology and syntax
76	Prosody	242
	The grammatical role of intonation, stress, and other prosodic features
77	Punctuation	244
	The grammatical functions of punctuation, and the main conventions
	Usage guide	246
	General index	248
	Further reading	253
	The next step	253