

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction: Reconstructing the Author	xv
Part 1: The Aesthetic and Textual Debate
Section 1: Changing Conceptions of Authorship
3
1. Plato
from Ion	13
2. Plato
from The Republic	19
3. A. J. Minnis
‘The Significance of the Medieval Theory of Authorship’	23
4. Sir Philip Sidney
from An Apology for Poetry	31
5. Edward Young
from ‘Conjectures on Original Composition’	37
6. Percy Bysshe Shelley
from ‘A Defence of Poetry’	43
7. Stéphane Mallarmé
from ‘Crisis in Verse’	51
8. Sigmund Freud
‘Creative Writers and Day-Dreaming’	54
Section 2: The Twentieth-century Controversy
63
9. T. S. Eliot
‘Tradition and the Individual Talent’	73

10.	Boris Tomaševskij 'Literature and Biography'	81
11.	W. K. Wimsatt Jr and Monroe C. Beardsley from 'The Intentional Fallacy'	90
12.	Georges Poulet from 'Criticism and the Experience of Interiority'	101
13.	E. D. Hirsch Jr from Validity in Interpretation	108
14.	Jacques Derrida 'The Exorbitant. Question of Method'	117
15.	Roland Barthes 'The Death of the Author'	125
16.	Harold Bloom 'A Meditation upon Priority, and a Synopsis'	131
	Part 2: The Politics of Authorship
	Section 1: Feminism and the Authorial Subject	143
17.	Sandra M. Gilbert and Susan Gubar from The Madwoman in the Attic	151
18.	Hélène Cixous 'Castration or Decapitation?'	162
19.	Alice Jardine 'Feminist Tracks'	178
20.	Nancy K. Miller 'Changing the Subject: Authorship, Writing and the Reader'	193
	Section 2: Ideologies and Authorship	213
21.	Jean-Paul Sartre 'Writing For One's Age'	223
22.	Pierre Macherey 'Creation and Production'	230
23.	Michel Foucault from 'What Is an Author?'	233
24.	Molly Nesbit from 'What Was an Author?'	247
25.	Donald E. Pease 'Author'	263
26.	Máire ní Fhlathúin 'Postcolonialism and the Author: The Case of Salman Rushdie'	277

27.	Seán Burke 'The Ethics of Signature'	285
28.	Richard Rorty 'Taking Philosophy Seriously'	292
	Part 3: Writing the Self	301
29.	Michel de Montaigne from Essays	309
30.	René Descartes 'Second Meditation'	312
31.	Friedrich Nietzsche 'Why I Am a Destiny'	320
32.	Jorge Luis Borges 'Pierre Menard, Author of the Quixote '; 'Kafka and His Precursors'; 'Everything and Nothing'; 'Borges and I'	328
	Index	340