

Contents

Figures	xi
Plates	xiii
Textual Notes	xv
Acknowledgments	xvii
1. Introduction
Possession, Identity, and Power: Theoretical and Methodological Considerations	1
Critical Approaches to the Study of Affliction	3
Investigating Possession: Social Change, Marginality, and Religious Experience	11
The Logic and Methods of Inquiry	18

PART I: HISTORIC, POLITICAL-ECONOMIC,
AND SOCIAL LEVELS OF EXPERIENCE

2. The Political Economy of the Sambirano	27
Ambanja, a Plantation Community	27
An Economic and Political History of the Region	35
Local Power and Reactions to Colonialism	44
3. National and Local Factions: The Nature of Polyculturalism in Ambanja	52
National Factions: Regionalism and Cultural Stereotypes	53
Social and Cultural Divisions in Ambanja	65
The Effects of Polyculturalism	76
4. Tera-Tany and Vahiny : Insiders and Outsiders	81
Migrant Stories	82
Patterns of Association and Means for Incorporation	96

PART II: SPIRIT POSSESSION IN THE SAMBIRANO

5. The World of the Spirits	115
The Dynamics of Tromba in Daily Life	116
The Possession Experience	122
Other Members of the Spirit World	134

6. Sacred Knowledge and Local Power: Tromba and the Sambirano Economy	144
Tromba as Ethnohistory	145
Tromba, Wage Labor, and Economic Independence	158
Tromba and Collective Power in the Sambirano	165
7. Spirit Mediumship and Social Identity	171
Selfhood and Personhood in the Context of Possession	172
Turning Outsiders into Insiders: Mediums' Social Networks and Personal Relationships	179
Miasa ny Tromba : Mediumship as Work	189
PART III: THE CONFLICTS OF TOWN LIFE
8. The Problems and Conflicts of Town Life: The Adult World	203
Malagasy Concepts of Healing	203
Sickness and Death	209
Work and Success	212
Love and Money, Wives and Mistresses	216
9. The Social World of Children	222
The Possessed Youth of Ambanja	224
The Disorder of a Fragmented World	231
Children and Social Change	240

10. Exorcising the Spirits: The Alternative Therapeutics of Protestantism	245
Sakalava Perceptions of Possession and Madness	246
Catholic and Muslim Perspectives on Possession	252
The Fifohazana or Protestant Exorcists	255
The Power of Protestant Healing	269
 Conclusion: Toward a Reassessment of the Possessed and the Dispossessed	 276
 Appendices	 281
A. Glossary of Malagasy Terms	283
B. List of the Possessed	287
 Notes	 293
 References	 311
 Index	 339