

Contents

| | |
|--|-----|
| Acknowledgements | ix |
| Introduction: Deep Structures in Modern Children's Fiction | 1 |
| 1. Loneliness, Dreaming and Discovery: Tom's Midnight Garden | 27 |
| 2. Narnia : An Imaginary Land as Container of Moral and Emotional Adventure | 40 |
| 3. Magic Wishes and the Self Explorations of Children: Five Children and It | 59 |
| 4. The Life of Dolls: Rumer Godden's Understanding of Children's Imaginative Play | 84 |
| 5. The Maternal Capacities of a Small Boy: The Indian in the Cupboard | 104 |
| 6. Animals in Reality and Fantasy: Two Stories by Philippa Pearce | 119 |
| 7. The Poetic Power of Ordinary Speech: E. B. White's Children's Stories | 146 |
| 8. Who Believes in 'Borrowers'? | 163 |
| 9. Making Out in America: The Mouse and His Child | 181 |

| | |
|---|-----|
| 10. Inner Implications of Extended Traumas: Carrie's War | 196 |
| 11. Finding Oneself Among Strangers: Three Stories by Paula Fox | 215 |
| Conclusion: Explorations of Loss | 248 |
| Notes | 256 |
| List of Principal Works Discussed | 263 |
| Index | 265 |