

Contents

Foreword
Robin W. Winks	ix
Acknowledgments	xv
1. Keynote Address: Gender and Detective Fiction
Carolyn Heilbrun	1
I. Mysteries as Social Criticism
2. Detection and Ethics: The Case of P. D. James
Dennis Porter	11
3. Chandler Comes to Harlem:
Racial Politics in the Thrillers of Chester Himes
Peter J. Rabinowitz	19
4. The Social-Domestic World of June Thomson's
Detective Chief Inspector Jack Finch/Rudd
John McAleer	31
II. Women and Crime Writing
5. Seeley Regester: America's First Detective Novelist
B. J. Rahn	47
6. Let's Hear It for Agatha Christie: A Feminist Appreciation
Michele Slung	63
7. A Sweep Through the Subgenres
Marilyn Stasio	69

III. Down These Mean Streets

8. Hard-Boiled Virgil: Early Nineteenth-Century Beginnings
of a Popular Literary Formula
William W. Stowe 79
9. The Hard-Boiled Detective Story:
From the Open Range to the Mean Streets
Richard Slotkin 91
10. Elmore Leonard: Splitting Images
Glenn W. Most 101
- Annotated Bibliography
Susan Steinberg 111
- Poisoned Pens: Book Discussion List 127
- About The Contributors 129
- Index 133