

Contents

Introduction 1

Part one

Principles and methods for functional language teaching

Chapter 1

How adequate is orthodox language teaching theory and method to the communicative task? 5

Chapter 2

Communicating at work in a second language. 14

Chapter 3

Communication breakdowns and inadequacies. 20

Chapter 4

Designing language teaching items for a particular communicative need. 25

Chapter 5

A concept for a functional language learning course. 31

Chapter 6

The investigation of language requirements in an employment situation including the assessment of learners. 38

Chapter 7

The contents and methodology of the Industrial English teaching materials. 46

Chapter 8

The participation of other people in communicative improvement. 62

CONTENTS

Chapter 9

Evaluation of communicative improvement. 68

Part two

Elementary course materials for immigrants

Introduction to Part Two. 73

Section one

Building confidence; establishing methods; basic grammar. 80

Section two

Simple social language; instructions and faults; requests. 118

Section three

Responding in more complicated situations: measurement and accuracy. 155

Section four

All about the factory. 205

Section five

Explanations and apologies; cultural behaviour; solving job problems. 238

Section six

Taking the initiative; responding in difficult situations; cultural matters; revision. 270

Appendices

Appendix one

Index of language forms and language functions for teaching items in Part Two. 305

Appendix two

Language assessment tests. 317