

Contents

List of Stories . . . . .	1
A Story for the Positive Process: The Dream . . . . .	2
Six Theses of Positive Family Therapy . . . . .	3
Introduction . . . . .	5

Part I. Introduction to the Theory of Positive Family Therapy

1. The Situation in Science, Religion, Education, and Psychotherapy . . . . .	13
2. What Is “Family Therapy”? . . . . .	16
3. What Does “Positive Family Therapy” Mean? . . . . .	17
4. Guidelines for the Reader . . . . .	20

Part II. Transcultural Psychotherapy (The East-West Concept)

1. Social Changes and the Image of Man . . . . .	25
2. Practical Aspects of the East-West Concept in Family Therapy . . . . .	36

Part III. From Family Therapy to Positive Family Therapy

1. The Family as Hell . . . . .	51
2. The Family as Heaven . . . . .	56
3. The Family as Fate . . . . .	59
4. Forms of the Family . . . . .	63
5. The Family Equilibrium . . . . .	66
6. Family Therapy: Who Should be Treated? . . . . .	69
7. Family or Clinic . . . . .	73

8. The Development of Family Therapy . . . . .	76
9. What Does Positive Family Therapy Deal With? . . . . .	85

Part IV. The Tools of Positive Family Therapy

1. The Three Pillars of Positive Family Therapy . . . . .	95
2. The Positive Starting Point . . . . .	98
3. What is “Positive Family Therapy”? . . . . .	102
4. The Positive Image of Man – Unity in Diversity . . . . .	104
5. The Basic Capabilities in the Literature . . . . .	109
6. Possibilities for Reinterpretation . . . . .	111
7. Practical Applications of the “Positive Interpretations” . . . . .	114
8. Aids for Changing One’s Perspective . . . . .	129
9. What Are “Concepts”? . . . . .	131
10. Positive Family Therapy Does Not Remove Anything . . . . .	133
11. The Patient as Therapist . . . . .	135
12. The Positive Procedure in the Therapeutic Process . . . . .	136

Part V. Conflict Contents and Conflict Dynamics

1. Four Forms of Dealing with Conflict and How They Work . . . . .	141
2. The Four Forms of Dealing with Conflict, as Used in Positive Family Therapy . . . . .	155
3. The Four Model Dimensions . . . . .	158
4. The Four Forms of the Model Dimensions in Positive Family Therapy . . . . .	172
5. Actual Capabilities . . . . .	176
6. Microtraumas: The So-called Little Things . . . . .	183
7. Making Contents Concrete . . . . .	185
8. The Significance of the Actual Capabilities . . . . .	187
9. Actual Capabilities as Signs of Transcultural Differences . . . . .	189
10. Using the Differentiation Analytical Inventory (DAI) . . . . .	192
11. Actual Conflict and Basic Conflict . . . . .	198
12. The Three Stages of Interaction . . . . .	201

Part VI. The Five Steps in Positive Family Therapy and How They Operate

1. The Stage of Observation/Distancing . . . . .	213
2. The Stage of Taking Inventory . . . . .	220
3. The Stage of Situational Encouragement . . . . .	224

4. The Stage of Verbalization . . . . .	228
5. The Stage of Goal Expansion . . . . .	231
6. The Strategy of Positive Family Therapy . . . . .	239
7. The Relationships between Therapeutic Models . . . . .	246
8. Positive Family Therapy: Language and Social Strata . . . . .	250

Part VII. Practice of Positive Family Therapy

1. Concepts and Their Application in Positive Family Therapy . . . . .	257
2. Concepts in Therapeutic Work: The Change of Perspective . . . . .	260
3. Stories and Sayings as Aids for Changing One’s Perspective . . . . .	262

Part VIII. Concepts and Their Effects in Positive Family Therapy

1. Frigidity: The Ability to Say No with One’s Body . . . . .	267
2. What Do Stomach Troubles Have to Do with Frugality? . . . . .	269
3. My Parents Raised Me Wrong . . . . .	272
4. Adiposity . . . . .	278
5. A Heart Neurosis . . . . .	282
6. “What Will People Say?” . . . . .	289
7. Literary Concepts: Who is Your Favorite Author? . . . . .	293

Part IX. Family Tradition and Identity

1. Traditional Neurosis . . . . .	299
2. Hanging onto Concepts or Changing Them . . . . .	301
3. The Undecided Generation Conflict . . . . .	303
4. Till Death Do You Part . . . . .	305
5. The Wrong Way . . . . .	307
6. Delegated Concepts . . . . .	309
7. The Old Prohibition . . . . .	312
8. Dangerous Tea . . . . .	314
9. Can One Hurt Other People? . . . . .	316
10. The Redeemer . . . . .	318
11. The Concept Family Tree . . . . .	319
12. Tradition of Symptoms . . . . .	324

Epilogue . . . . .	326
Reviews of The Family as Therapist: New Strategies for Positive Family Therapy . . . . .	328

Bibliography . . . . .	331
Subject Index . . . . .	335