

Contents

Preface vii

List of abbreviations ix

Introduction i

Reformation sentiments – Restoration sentiments

Chapter 1 ‘Fallen on evil days’

the historical circumstances of nonconformity 25

Black Bartholomew day – ‘Divers sorts’ of nonconformists –
The Clarendon code – Schism by law

Chapter 2 ‘Hand in hand’

the literary response of nonconformity to persecution 68

Rebels and schismatics – ‘These so much censured meetings’ –
‘Deare frind my deare loue saluts thee’ – ‘The press hath a louder voice then mine’

Chapter 3 ‘Truth shall retire’

nonconformity and the press 93

Licences, libels and bonfires – Mr Filth –
With authority, or without – Confederates and congers

Chapter 4 ‘Fit audience though few?’

nonconformist writers and their readers 127

Cadmus’ dragon’s teeth – The implied reader –
The authorial persona – Good books and bad

Chapter 5 ‘Knowledge within bounds’

learning and creativity in nonconformity 156

Education and the spirit – Humane learning –
‘Trust not only to your understandings’ – ‘Still as I pull’d, it came’

Chapter 6 ‘A paradise within’

internationalization, introspection and individualism in nonconformist writing 187

No cross, no crown – The lamb’s war –
‘Christ his schools’ – Heart religion

Chapter 7 ‘The better fortitude’

realism and the nonconformist hero 215

À la mode – In the world –
‘Above heroic’ – The company of the saints

Chapter 8 'Answerable style'
the linguistic dissent of nonconformity 240
A plain style? – 'The thing as it was' –
'Fine metaphors and glittering allusions' – 'Glory stamped on every creature'

Chapter 9 'The world was all before them'
nonconformist story 263
'The true children of Abraham' – 'To be a pilgrim' –
'Out of Egypt' – 'The wilderness of this world'

Conclusion
the literary temper of nonconformity 284

Notes 286

Bibliography 328

Index 343