

Contents

Acknowledgements vi

Introduction 1

1 The quality of the writing 4

T. S. Eliot - John Whiting - Harold Pinter - John Osborne
John Arden - Edward Bond - Tom Stoppard - Barrie Keeffe

2 Innovation and conservatism 30

Harold Pinter - John Osborne - Joe Orton - Tom Stoppard
Arnold Wesker - Edward Bond - Robert Bolt - John Mortimer
Peter Shaffer - David Storey - David Mercer - Peter Nichols
Charles Wood - Alan Ayckbourn - Simon Gray
Christopher Hampton - David Rudkin - Heathcote Williams
Naturalism and contemporary drama

3 The politics of hatred 80

David Hare's Plenty - John Arden - Edward Bond
John McGrath - Portable Theatre - Howard Brenton
Trevor Griffiths - Howard Barker - David Edgar - David Hare's
Teeth 'n' Smiles - Stephen Poliakoff

4 New relationships 129

Avant-garde theatre and fringe theatre - Acting area and auditorium - Devaluation of the word and the dominance of the director - Joan Littlewood - Peter Brook - John Dexter
Max Stafford-Clark - Mike Leigh - The Hull Truck Company
Steven Berkoff - Transatlantic cross-currents - The audience's imagination

Appendix: Year by year 1955-78 148

Select bibliography 169

Index 172