

Contents

Acknowledgments, ix

Introduction. A Revolution the World Forgot, 1

Part I. War

Chapter 1. Slaves, Insurgents, and Citizens:

The Early Ten Years' War, 1868–1870, 15

Chapter 2. Region, Race, and Transformation in the

Ten Years' War, 1870–1878, 43

Chapter 3. Fear and Its Uses: The Little War, 1879–1880, 70

Part II. Peace

Chapter 4. A Fragile Peace: Colonialism, the State, and Rural Society, 1878–1895, 93

Chapter 5. Writing the Nation:

Race, War, and Redemption in the Prose of Independence, 1886–1895, 112

Part III. War Again

Chapter 6. Insurgent Identities:

Race and the Western Invasion, 1895–1896, 141

Chapter 7. Race, Culture, and Contention:

Political Leadership and the Onset of Peace, 170

Epilogue and Prologue. Race, Nation, and Empire, 195

Notes, 203

Bibliography, 249

Index, 267