

C O N T E N T S

George R. Neumann and Niels Westergård-Nielsen Editors Introduction	III
Per Kragh Andersen The Counting Process Approach to the Statistical Analysis of Labour Force Dynamics	1
Tony Lancaster and Andrew Chesher Simultaneous Equations with Endogenous Hazards	16
Geert Ridder The Distribution of Single-spell Duration Data	45
Kenneth Burdett, Nicholas M. Kiefer, Dale T. Mortensen and George R. Neumann Steady States as Natural Rates in a Dynamic Discrete Choice Model of Labor Supply	74
Dale T. Mortensen and George R. Neumann Choice or Chance? A Structural Interpretation of Individual Labor Market Histories	98
Stuart E. Weiner A Survival Analysis of Adult Male Black/White Labor Market Flows.	132
Boyan Jovanovic Wages and Turnover: A Parametrization of the Job-Matching Model .	158
Jean Marcel Dalbarade A Dynamic Model of Labor Management	168
Linda Leighton and Siv Gustafsson Labor Market Policies and Differential Patterns of Unemployment in Sweden	187

Shelly Lundberg
Household Labor Supply with Quantity Constraints	219
Bertil Holmlund
Job Mobility and Wage Growth: A Study of Selection Rules and Rewards	238
Finn Spieker
Employment-Related Classifications in a Register Based Statistical System	261
Niels Westergård-Nielsen
A Danish Longitudinal Data Base	267

Shelly Lundberg
Household Labor Supply with Quantity Constraints	219
Bertil Holmlund
Job Mobility and Wage Growth: A Study of Selection Rules and Rewards	238
Finn Spieker
Employment-Related Classifications in a Register Based Statistical System	261
Niels Westergård-Nielsen
A Danish Longitudinal Data Base	267