

Contents

1. Introduction: Approaches to Reading Irish Fiction	1
2. The Fashionable Potato: Lady Blessington and W. H. Maxwell	27
3. Peasant or Pheasant Novelist? The Authority of William Carleton	45
4. Ruin through Rollicking: Poor Charles Lever	71
5. Sensational Stalworts: Irish Victorian Novelists in Mid-Century	93
6. 'Two Nations on One Soil': Land, Fenians, and Politics in Fiction	119
7. 'Real Protestantism never Slumbers': Religious and Historical Fiction	149
8. Frenzied Form: The Land-War Novel	167
9. Grania and her Sisters: New Women Abroad and at Home	193
10. Fin de Siècle : Vortex of the Genres	215
11. The Lives of the Irish Novelists	245
12. Conclusion: Contested Representations	261
Bibliography	267
Index	295