
Contents

Acknowledgements	vi
Contributors	vii
Introduction	1
Toni O'Brien Johnson and David Cairns
1 Celtic heroine? The archaeology of the Deirdre story	13
Máire Herbert
2 Elise and the Great Queens of Ireland: "Femininity" as constructed by Sinn Féin and the Abbey Theatre, 1901–1907	23
Elin Ap Hywel
3 Mina's disclosure: Bram Stoker's Dracula	40
Mary FitzGerald
4 Yeats: The anxiety of masculinity	46
Elizabeth Butler Cullingford
5 Narcissus re-vised: Constituting the female subject in three Beckett plays	68
Toni O'Brien Johnson
6 "Bog Queens": The representation of women in the poetry of John Montague and Seamus Heaney	88
Patricia Coughlan
7 Jennifer Johnston's Irish troubles: A materialist-feminist reading	112
Christine St Peter
8 Tropes and traps: Aspects of "Woman" and nationality in twentieth-century Irish drama	128
David Cairns and Shaun Richards
Works cited	138
Index	149