

Contents

	PAGE
Introduction . . . . .	v
I. A Manifesto for a National Literature . . . . .	3
II. The Status of Overseas Litera- ture . . . . .	26
III. The Significance of Canadian Literature . . . . .	43
IV. The Fatal Gift . . . . .	63
V. Canadian Poets and the New Universe . . . . .	72
VI. The Case of the Lyrical Lyric .	100
VII. The Outlook for Canadian Fiction . . . . .	124
VIII. What About the Canadian Drama? . . . . .	138
IX. The Quality of Canadian Humour	147
X. Nature in Canadian Prose . . .	160

CANADIAN LITERATURE

	PAGE
XI. Interpreters of the Indian . . .	171
XII. Interpreters of the Habitant . . .	186
XIII. Pioneer and Immigrant . . . .	197
XIV. Dominion and Empire . . . .	210
XV. Down to the Sea in Ships . . . .	226
XVI. The Land of Open Spaces . . . .	236
XVII. North of Fifty Three . . . .	245
XVIII. Mountains and Ocean . . . .	254
Index . . . . .	269